- Prime Minister Narendra Modi praised Raigarh's Millet Cafe
- In just nine months, Raigarh's Millet Cafe has gained popularity at the national level
- Dishes such as cheela, idli, dosa, momos, and pizzas made of ragi and kodo biryani are served in this cafe
- Chhattisgarh is emerging as a millet hub under the leadership of Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel
- The Millet Mission has boosted the production of coarse grains

The Millet Movement

The Chhattisgarh Millet Mission has given a major boost to the cultivation of kodo, kutki and ragi (millets) in the state and has made it profitable for farmers to grow millet crops. On the special initiative of Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel, millets are being procured at support prices and this has helped farmers to earn crores of rupees. In the last season, farmers had sold 34,298 quintals of millets at the support price for Rs 10.45 crore.

Chhattisgarh is the only state in the country where kodo, kutki and ragi are being procured at the support price and the work of its value addition is also being done. Kodo-kutki is being procured at the rate of Rs 3,000 per quintal on the support price and ragi is being procured at the rate of Rs 3,377 per quintal.

With the support and guidance of the Chhattisgarh State Seed Certification Institute, farmers have started producing certified kodo seeds and are earning substantial profits. In the last one year, the number of farmers producing certified seeds has increased by almost five times and the income from this has increased four times. In the year 2021-22, 3,089 quintals of certified seeds were produced by 171 farmers of 11 districts of the state. These seeds were procured by the Seed Corporation at the rate of Rs 4,150 per quintal, against which an amount of more than Rs 1,28,18,000 was paid to the farmers. The certified seeds produced by the farmers of the state are being supplied for sowing through cooperative societies.

A.B. Asana, Additional Director of Seed Certification Institute, said that in the year 2020-21, only 716 quintals of certified seeds were produced by 36 farmers of seven districts in the state, and their income that year was a mere Rs 32.88 lakh, whereas in 2021-22 the number of kodo seed producing farmers and the profit from the sale of seeds both increased manifold. In the last three years, kodo certified seed producing farmers have sold seeds worth Rs 1,65,18,633 to the Chhattisgarh Seed Development Corporation.

Asana said that cultivation of kodo is more beneficial in the agricultural land where the production of paddy is nominal. Kodo cultivation requires less water and less fertilizer, and so it has low input cost and high profit for the farmers. He said that in the year 2019-20, only 103 quintals of certified seeds were produced in the state. Since the implementation of the Millet Mission, the Chhattisgarh State Seed Certification Institute, in coordination with other government institutions, is making continuous efforts to promote kodo seed production and these efforts are bearing significantly positive results.

No surprise then that Chhattisgarh has received the National Level Nutritious Grain Award 2022 for promoting millet farming. To further promote millet production in the state, the state government has included millet farming under the scope of the Rajiv Gandhi Kisan Nyay Yojana. Millet producing farmers are being provided an exchange grant of Rs 9,000 per acre as an incentive.

The cultivation of kodo, kutki and ragi is being continuously expanded in the state. The area under millet cultivation has increased from 69,000 hectare to 1,88,000 hectare in the state. The Millet Mission is being implemented with the objective of promoting millet cultivation, training of farmers, availability of high quality seeds and increase in productivity. Under the Chhattisgarh Millet Mission, a target has also been set to increase the productivity of millet from 4.5 quintals per acre to 9 quintals.

MoU with IIMR aims to double the productivity

Cultivation of kodo, kutki and ragi is being expanded in the state. The area under its cultivation has increased from 69,000 hectares to 1.88 lakh hectares in the state. The Millet Mission is being run in the state with the goal of promoting millet cultivation, training farmers, ensuring the availability of high-quality seeds, and increasing productivity. Fourteen districts have signed a tripartite MoU with IIMR Hyderabad under the Millet Mission through the efforts of the Chhattisgarh State Minor Forest Produce Association. Under the Chhattisgarh Millet Mission, a target has also been set to increase the productivity of millet from 4.5 quintals per acre to 9 quintals--that is doubling the productivity.

Kodo, kutki, ragi procured at support price in Chhattisgarh

Chhattisgarh is the first state in the country where millets are being promoted consistently under the leadership of Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel. In Chhattisgarh, not only has the support price of kodo, kutki and ragi been declared, but it is also being procured at the support price. With this initiative, the area under millets in Chhattisgarh has increased one and a half times and production has also increased. The Chief Minister had organised lunch for the members of the legislative assembly and the media to promote dishes made from millet. The Millet Cafe has also started in Chhattisgarh. The biggest processing plant of millets has also been set up at Nathia-Navagaon in Kanker district. To promote millets, millet processing plants are being set up in rural industrial parks (RIPA) at Gauthan.

Balancing nutrition and taste

The Millet Cafe near Natwar School in Raigarh is a unique cafe that serves delectable dishes made from millets like ragi, kodo, kutki, combining nutrition with taste. This cafe has the distinction of being the first millet cafe in the state that is operated by women. And it is a matter of pride for the state that Prime Minister Narendra Modi praised this millet cafe and Chhattisgarh Government's initiative to promote millet in his radio programme, Mann Ki Baat. He asked the listeners that whenever they get a chance to visit Raigarh in Chhattisgarh, they should visit the Millet Cafe and enjoy the cuisine there. Pasta, cheela, idli, Manchurian, momos, pizzas, noodles, dosa made from ragi, and biryani made from kodo can be tasted in this cafe.

The year 2023 is being celebrated as the International Millet Year to encourage production and consumption of millets.

Mission Millet was launched in Chhattisgarh Under the leadership of Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel, to boost the production of coarse grains and minor grain crops like ragi, kodo, kutki, to ensure good arrangements for the procurement of these millet crops and to take these to the urban markets after processing. Besides fixing the support price of kodo, kutki and ragi, the state government has also included them in the purview of the Rajiv Gandhi Kisan Nyay Yojana. Fourteen districts of the state have been included under this mission. For this, an MoU has been signed with the Indian Institute of Millet Research (IIMR), Hyderabad. Under the MoU, the IIMR Hyderabad, is providing cooperation and guidance for increasing the productivity of kodo, kutki and ragi in Chhattisgarh, besides ensuring technical know-how, availability of high quality seeds and establishment of a seed bank.

PM sets $5bn def export target

Bar raised from current $1.5 billion; Inaugurates Aero India 2023 in Bengaluru

RAMU PATIL @Bengaluru

AS fighter jets, helicopters and various aircraft roared over Bengaluru to mark the inauguration of the five-day Aero India 2023, the biggest airshow in Asia, Prime Minister Narendra Modi set an ambitious target of US $5 billion in defence exports by 2024-25.

"The aim is to take defence exports from $ 1.5 billion to $ 5 billion by 2024-25. From here India will take rapid strides to be included among the largest defence manufacturing countries and our private sector and investors will play a big role in that," the PM said.

In the last five years, India's defence equipment export has increased six times and reached $1.5 billion. The PM termed India as a credible and cost-effective export partner of defence products with the best innovation and honest intent.

In his address after inaugurating the 14th edition of the biennial event, Modi said the sky over Bengaluru is bearing testimony to the capabilities of new India, which is touching new heights and transcending them too. The PM compared India in Amrit Kaal to a fighter jet pilot. "India of today thinks fast, thinks far and takes quick decisions, and it is not afraid, but excited, to soar to new heights," he said.

The PM said Aero India showcases the scope of the defence industry and self-confidence of India. New India of the 21st century will neither miss any opportunity nor will it lack in effort, he said and highlighted the reforms taken up to ensure ease of doing business, strengthen the industry and woo the investors.

THREE-MONTH HIGH

Inflation flares up again, upsets RBI

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN what could put more pressure on the Reserve Bank of India to keep up with its rate hike cycle, retail inflation shot up to 6.52% in January, breaching RBI's upper tolerance limit of 6% after a two-month lull.

Retail inflation, based on consumer price index, was 5.72% in December and 6.01% in January 2022. The previous high was 6.77% in October 2022.

The latest number came as a shock because most estimates had projected the number to be below 6%.

The high inflation print in January was on account of higher food prices and core inflation (price change in non-fuel, non-food items), government data released on Monday showed.

Food inflation, which has a 40% weightage in the index, came in at 5.94% in January compared with 4.19% in December, driven by cereals and protein-rich items such as milk and eggs. Cereals and milk have weightages of 12.35% and 7.72%, respectively, in the inflation basket. Cereals and cereal product inflation reached 16.1% in January 2023 while milk prices were up 8.8% in the same month.

Experts believe inflation is likely to stay above RBI's upper tolerance level at least for the next two months.

"Much of this sharp increase is due to high cereal price inflation and partly due to an unfavourable base. However, with cereal prices staying on the upside, inflation could remain around 5.5-6% in the near term," said Suvodeep Rakshit, senior economist at Kotak Institutional Equities. He added that there is now a distinct possibility of RBI effecting a 25 bps repo rate hike in the next monetary policy review.

Aditi Nayar, chief economist at ICRA, believes retail inflation in February may drop to 6.2% owing to a dip in food prices, but it will remain above RBI's 6% tolerance level owing to the stickiness in core inflation.

Kodagu tiger strikes again, kills 2 kin in 15 hrs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Madikeri

BARELY 15 hours after a youth, Chetan (18) was killed by a tiger, his relative Raju (65) was fatally attacked by the same tiger in south Kodagu, sending shockwaves across the region. Raju had come to attend Chetan's funeral when the incident took place.

Raju, a native of Panchavalli in Hunsur, arrived in K Badaga village on Sunday evening after Chetan was killed by the tiger at Churikadu estate limits in the village.

Raju attended the final rites of Chetan at the estate premises and was staying with his son Rajesh, who is an estate labourer working at the private estate. Raju was attacked by the big cat when he came out of the house in the estate to answer nature's call around 7.30 am on Monday. As soon as he stepped on the verandah of the house, he was ambushed by the tiger.

The tiger grabbed Raju and took him away in front of a helpless Rajesh. Rajesh and a few other relatives took knives and swords and ran behind the tiger, which fled from the spot due to the commotion, leaving behind Raju's body.

On Sunday evening, Chetan was also killed in a similar attack by the same tiger at the same spot. Both deceased belong to the Jenukuruba community.

Mr CM, TAKE A BUS ON BUDGET DAY, URGES FORUM

Members of various organisations demand affordable public transport, increase in number of buses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH leaders been accused of being unaware about the plight of the commoners, members of Bengaluru Bus Prayanikara Vedike (BBPV), a rights forum for bus commuters, urged Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to take a BMTC bus from his residence to Vidhana Soudha to present the budget on February 17.

They said that if the chief minister takes the bus, it will bolster demand for public transport as nations grabble to tackle pollution, and at the same time, will encourage more people to choose public transport. They released a poster campaign titled - 'Namaskara CM Avare Dayavittu bus tagolli' (Hello CM, kindly take the bus) to present the state budget.

Sharing details about the campaign, Shahina Shasha of BBPV said "After the Covid pandemic, the ridership of the city transport corporation has come down. BMTC is the lifeline of the city and as a move intended to increase the ridership we urge Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to take the bus on the budget day."

Members of the BBPV, Slum Janara Sanghatane Karnataka, transgenders' rights group, women's organisation have met the chief minister and submitted a letter to make city's transport more affordable and free for women, transgenders and the economically weaker section. They also demanded that the allocation to buy buses be increased and the freeze on hiring be withdrawn.

For a city with a population of 1.3 crore, the BMTC operates only 5,600 buses, said Shasha, adding that double that numbers are needed.

Isaac Amruthraj of the Slum Janara Sanghatane Karnataka said that thousands of slum dwellers of Bhuvaneshwarinagar, Marathahalli, Sadaramangala, Lakshmanrao Nagar, Kudlu Gate and other areas are at the mercy of the autorickshaw drivers.

Either people have to walk for at least 2 km or pay Rs 30 for an auto to reach the main road and take a bus, Isaac said.

Mobility experts moot integrated infra, paid parking to streamline traffic

AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

WHILE Bengaluru has a population of nearly 1.2 crore and almost the same number of vehicles, its road and parking infrastructure have remained the same. For the upcoming State Budget, mobility experts are batting for paid parking complexes, and banning parking on roads and footpaths. They argue that mobility issues can be solved by involving multiple departments, coming up with a joint strategy and setting up common integrated infrastructure.

Traffic expert MN Sreehari said, "Roads are meant for only vehicular transport. But our roads are used for parking, which affects the free flow of vehicles. If the city's traffic problem has to be solved, parking on roads should be banned and the upcoming budget should focus on constructing parking complexes wherever possible."

Along with parking complexes, underground parking up to 2-3 levels should be built. All private vehicles should be parked only at these designated parking areas for a fee, Sreehari said, adding that building approvals for residential and commercial structures should be given only if they dedicate space for parking.

There is no cap on vehicle registration in RTOs. Vehicle registrations should be done only thrice a week, with a cap of 100 vehicles per day, Sreehari said. Metro's reach should be improved and options of building elevated monorail, and cable transport from one junction to another be explored.

Mobility expert Nagesh Aras said, "Indian cities are among the world's most congested. When commuters are stuck in traffic, their productivity is affected and precious time is wasted on roads. Congestion also causes many diseases. As a result, our city's economy suffers a whopping Rs 47,743 crore loss every year due to congestion. Even if a tiny fraction of that amount is added to our budgets, the loss can be averted."

RUN-UP TO BUDGET 2023-24

Traffic congestion can be avoided through many distinct measures, including urban planning, land use policy, parking policy, travel demand management and traffic flow control. This required a concerted effort from multiple government bodies like BDA, BMRDA, DULT, BBMP, BMRCL, Railways, BTP etc. They must develop a joint strategy, and set up common, integrated infrastructure. The government must prepare a budget to set up integrated mobility infrastructure; and also popularise public transport through economic incentives. Thus, both BMTC and BMRCL budgets (which are not strictly government budgets) must allocate money for this purpose.

BMTC must also extend its bus routes to maximise coverage of the city, instead of dropping unprofitable routes. Losses must be absorbed in the budget, so that the city's overall economy does not suffer, Aras said.

Fin dept comes under fire over grant-in-aid

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the state Legislative Council lambasted the Finance Department after it rejected the proposal to admit 114 private schools and colleges to grant-in-aid amid claims by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai that the state's finances are sound.

Kannada medium schools which started between 1986-87 to 1994-95 have been continuously run and should be admitted to the grant in aid, insisted BJP's Puttanna, JDS' Marithibbe Gowda and Congress' Nagaraj Yadav.

They gathered in the well of the House to protest, and pointed out that the exchequer will have to shell out only Rs 26.76 crore more annually.

Another BJP member S V Sankanuru also blasted the department as it was an insult to Bommai.

"It will be a face loss for BJP if we fail to admit the institutions for the grant in aid and safeguard the interests of 547 staff including teachers and 29 clerks," said Puttanna.

"The department should be taken to task as it has betrayed budgetary promise," said BJP's chief whip YA Narayanaswamy.

Members Bojegowda, leader of opposition BK Hariprasad, Minister BC Nagesh and the leader of the House Kota Srinivas Poojary promised they will take up the issue with Bommai. In its order on January 19, 2023, the department had said that since the government has been spending over Rs 1,800 crore for the salaries of aided schools and colleges staff, there might be a revenue deficit and financial crunch, and rejected the proposal.

Poster menace: HC order defied, Palike yet to act

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

DESPITE standing instruction from Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on filing at least 10 cases against those putting up illegal banners of political leaders and others at each BBMP zone and a high court order, there has been no action.

In Domlur ward on Old Airport Main Road, big cutouts were erected on both sides of the road by BJP leaders wishing Shanthinagar mandal vice-president K Sada Reddy on his birthday.

Earlier, BBMP had told that those who are defacing the city will be punished as per BBMP Act and fines imposed. Last week, Girinath had given instructions to all zonal-level assistant commissioners of the revenue department to file 10 cases in each zone to curb the banner menace.

Girinath said there are executive engineers have undertaken the task of removing flexes. Asked if FIRs will be filed, he said it will be taken up.

Condemning Girinath's statement about removing only banners, urban expert Ashwin Mahesh said, "Removing illegal banners is necessary but not enough. Only if action is taken against violators, it will be a deterrent."

AHEAD OF AIR ASIA OPs, MANY CLUELESS HOW TO REACH T2

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

WITH Terminal 2 of KIA set to touch at least 15,000 flyers after Air Asia India shifts base here from Wednesday, a huge infrastructural challenge is in the offing. Even today, a good chunk of cab drivers make flyers alight at Terminal 1 as they are unaware of the route to be taken to reach there.

Free shuttle buses then take the air passengers to T2, located 600m away. With just one airline, Star Air, operating from the new terminal of KIA since its launch on January 15, the daily footfalls daily hover around 200 flyers only. Star Air operates the small sized Embraer 145 aircraft from Bengaluru to Kalaburagi and Hubballi airports and back.

However, the scenario will change as Air Asia operates Airbus 320 neo and Airbus 320 ceo flights. A spokesperson told TNIE, "Bengaluru is the home base and the largest hub for Air Asia India and we will operate 43 daily departures connecting Bengaluru to Delhi, Goa, Mumbai, Hyderabad, Kolkata, Bhubaneswar, Guwahati, Pune, Jaipur, Lucknow, Ranchi, Kochi, Chennai, Vishakapatnam and Surat. Departing flights alone can accommodate 7,750 passengers. There will be 43 arrivals consequently," he said. Flights to Imphal and Srinagar too are in the offing.

T2 presently only provides a temporary parking facility which is equipped to handle 180 cars at a time.

Deepak Bhatia tweeted on Sunday. "@BLR airport Why have you made T2 a show piece? There are no cabs by Ola and Uber. Buses drop you on the middle of the highway. I took more time to wait for my luggage and cab than to reach Bengaluru." Over the last one month, other passengers too spoke about car drivers going in circles to find the entry to the new terminal. Asked about it, an airport source said, "The situation will improve soon. Once a big name like Air Asia starts operations here, T2 will become quite busy and public will get to know about it better." A source at BIAL said, "Complementary shuttle services are provided by airport operator, BIAL, which operates at a frequency of 10 mins. There are clear signages all over to T2. Information is also there on our website and social media."

PETER VIDAL

14th February : The Moon is soon to make one of its more traditional patterns. People born under this position are obstinate but also often charming, friendly and helpful and the world would be a better place if there were more like them. It follows that today is a day for good manners, courteous behaviour and consideration for strangers.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There is no turning back. This much must be clear to you. If, on the other hand, you want to plan for the immediate future, get all your spending plans in order. Put the emphasis on long-term investments, and try to get partners to opt for safety and security.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The truth of your situation should now be becoming clear. You may, for example, be about to realise the importance of authority and tradition. At work, there is no way to evade the powers that be. Your most positive approach is to do what you have to for now, and try to turn the tables when the time is right.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You may be about to amaze loved ones with a display of energy. I'm not advising you to be aggressive, but I would like to see you being more self-assertive in the very best sense. Stand up for what you know to be right. If you take the easy way out, then you won't respect yourself - and neither will other people.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There will of course be times when you don't see eye to eye with loved ones, but you may head off potential confrontations by biting your tongue, turning the other cheek and allowing people to learn from their own mistakes. That might be the best approach for them as well as for you.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is no point in advising you to ignore what is happening at home. You may get away with burying your head in the sand now but, if you do, your problems will escalate over the summer. Therefore, you must deal with all those fundamental issues, now.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The general planetary set-up indicates that you are still unclear whether to press ahead with your own individual goals or muck in and help out with tasks that are primarily others' concern. The answer is to do what you want today, but do what you have to tomorrow!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You should be ready to stand up and be counted. You must also be ready to put your back into achieving special personal goals. Don't ever expect to attain your goals without putting in sufficient effort. The cosmos just doesn't operate like that.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Astrology is infinitely complicated, and today's stars are completely overshadowed by alignments that take place in two to four days' time, so don't be mesmerised by short-term developments. Do yourself a favour by talking about your plans and discussing your hopes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The moment may have come to spring a few surprises, but there's a supreme irony here. The way you can astound people is by being utterly conservative. Radical ideas are out of date, and traditional values are in - at least for today! Tomorrow may be different!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Personally and emotionally this has been a trying time. Today's fascinating stars vary from being totally superficial to utterly profound. There is no middle way, so don't be complacent. You will have to decide which path you're taking and then follow it through.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Don't concern yourself with what happens today. It's the evening that counts, and if I were arranging your movements, I'd advise you to stay in bed until later. It may be impossible to fit in with such an awkward planetary schedule, but do your best!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You haven't always had a smooth ride recently. You may be in a tight corner, probably at home. But, to be perfectly frank, you could probably charm your way out of almost any situation the universe can throw at you. If in doubt, smile and win others over.

Jain varsity case: 9 in dock, including students, principal

Six students who had staged the skit suspended by college, internal inquiry ordered; NSUI wants them terminated

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SIDDAPURA police, investigating the case of students of Jain University Centre for Management Studies staging a skit at Nimhans Convention Centre on Hosur Road on February 8, insulting BR Ambedkar and the SC community, were arrested with nine accused, including seven students, principal and programme organiser. All the students are said to be fifth-semester BBA students.

Confirming the development, DCP (South) P Krishnakant told the media that the nine persons were arrested in Crime 32, registered by Siddapura police. "The accused include seven students, principal and organiser," the DCP added.

As damage control, six students who had staged the skit were suspended by the college and an internal inquiry was ordered.

In the wake of the recent incident of Jain University students enacting a skit during a college festival, the university issued a release stating: "Jain University offers its unconditional apology to all who have been hurt by the skit performed by the students."

The letter was signed by the Registrar, dated February 11, 2023.

Police had served notices to all accused to appear before the Investigating Officer after a case against them under the SC and the ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act of 1989, with other sections of the IPC, was registered around 8pm Friday. The complaint against the accused was filed by KN Madusudhana, assistant director, Social Welfare department of Bengaluru South.

In the meantime, members of NSUI demanded that the suspended students be terminated and not just be suspended. They also threatened that if no stern action is taken then the college should be blacklisted.

Higher Education Minister CN Ashwath Narayan also sought a detailed report after ordering an inquiry. The video clip of the skit had gone viral on social media. The students were performing the skit as part of a youth festival. Aakshay Bansode, state member of Yuva Vanchit Bahujan Aaghadi, had filed a complaint in Maharashtra seeking action against the accused.

Downgrading employee's cadre shouldn't affect pay, benefits, says High Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN the event of an employee suffering disability of 40 per cent or more due to an accident while on duty, the employee would be entitled to benefit from Section 47 of the Disabilities Act, as a matter of right. There should be no adverse impact on the pay and benefits of such employees while downgrading his cadre, the Karnataka High Court said.

Justice Suraj Govindaraj passed the order while allowing a petition by MB Jayadevaiah, aged 56, working as office helper at Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC).

Quashing the general establishment order dated September 4, 2022, and officer order dated March 15, 2014, the court directed BMTC to restore the petitioner's pay as applicable to the post of driver, which the petitioner was drawing when his cadre was downgraded on September 4, 2022, prior to and subsequently, and pay all arrears of salary and benefits from the time of his appointment, within a period of three months.

While the petitioner was discharging his duties as driver on July 4, 1999, the vehicle met with an accident and he sustained injuries and underwent a major surgery. Because he was not in a position to discharge his duties as driver, the petitioner sought light work.

After receiving a report from the Medical Board, the transport authority changed the cadre of the petitioner from driver to office attendant, and his pay was ordered to be refixed as applicable to office attender, and the difference, if any, in the basic pay was directed to be treated as personal pay.

In view of the change in cadre, the basic pay of the petitioner was reduced retrospectively, and hence, he moved court.

The court said, "What Section 47 only speaks of is that no person shall be discriminated against on account of disability and/or service not be dispensed with. In the event of that person being shifted to some other post, the same pay scale and service benefits as are being drawn be made available."

PANEL SETTLES RECORD 64.13 LAKH CASES IN A DAY

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka State Legal Services Authority (KSLSA) has set a new record by settling the highest number of cases, 64.13 lakh, amicably in a single day during the National Lok Adalat held on February 11, 2023.

Disclosing this to the media on Monday, KSLSA chairman Justice B Veerappa, who a judge in the Karnataka High Court, said that the cases include 62.26 lakh pre-litigation cases, 4.14 revenue cases, 670 matrimonial cases and 2,724 partition suites. He said the KSLSA has broken its previous record when it settled 14.77 lakh cases in a Lok Adalat held on November 12, 2022. A case of motor vehicle accident was settled for Rs 1.25 crore by an insurance company in Hassan, a commercial suit was settled for Rs 1.35 crore in Bengaluru and a 23-year-old oldest partition suit was settled in Ballari district.

50% DISCOUNT ON TRAFFIC FINES TO BE EXTENDED?

Justice Veerappa said that a resolution will be passed on Tuesday to extend 50 per cent concession in traffic challan fines by two more weeks, in view of a letter written by the Special Commissioner (Traffic) and also following request from the general public seeking extension of time.

"We will pass the resolution after holding a meeting with the authorities on Tuesday and then the state government will issue an order on extending time", he said. To a query, Justice Veerappa said that a total of 1,300 crore fine has to be collected from more than two crore traffic violation cases across the state.

Segregate wet waste, dry waste and sanitary waste at source.

Process the wet waste into manure at the home level itself.

Segregate the dry waste and give it to the garbage collection cart.

Don't throw garbage everywhere.

Don't burn garbage.

Do not throw medical waste, sanitary pads in the toilet.

Bengaluru is our beloved city. Keeping only our home clean will not ensure our streets and neighborhoods clean. Collective effort from all needs to be started as campaign, where every one of us should act as a Waste Warrior and contribute to keeping our environment clean and tidy.

BBMP is thriving to keep the city clean and tidy .

But, far more effort is welcome from citizens. Waste Warrior doesn't litter in public places, educates others on the importance of using waste bins and most importantly segregates the waste in their house. With over a crore Waste Warriors, working together we can surely restore our Garden City to all its former glory and more.

Def Min: Lack of political vision led to weapon import

Rajnath says India will not remain assembly workshop, open to ideas to harness energy

CHETAN MG @Bengaluru

DEFENCE Minister Rajnath Singh said a lack of political vision for self-reliance led to overwhelming dependence on imported weaponry, but now India does not want to remain just an assembly workshop.

Addressing over 70 CEOs of local and global Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs) during a Round Table organised as part of Aero India 2023 here on Monday, the minister said, "In the last few decades, despite being a diversified defence base, Indian defence industry could not perform to its full potential due to several reasons, of which the like of clear political vision in support of self-reliance is an important one. This led to an overwhelming dependence on imported weaponry. A country of India's size and global prominence cannot rely on imported arms, for such reliance will inevitably compromise the strategic autonomy of our country."

He said India does not want to remain just an assembly workshop anymore, and is looking to engage with friendly countries in defence and security, based on sharing expertise and capabilities. He called upon business leaders to support the government's endeavour to design, develop and manufacture cutting-edge products, using critical technologies in defence sector.

Assuring CEOs that the government is open to new ideas and committed to harnessing the energy, entrepreneurial spirit and capability of private sector partners, Singh extended the government's support towards removing obstacles and facilitating businesses.

Many foreign OEMs made announcements regarding their plans for investment and collaborations, including Safran, Boeing, Collins Aerospace, Pratt & Whitney and Thales in the defence and aerospace sector. General Atomics and Bharat Forge announced they would deepen their collaboration in aircraft components and parts. Hensoldt announced the Design/TOT and IPR transfer of obstacle avoidance systems for Indian Helicopters and co-development of advanced multi-sensor electro-optics airborne gimbals for Indian and world markets.

UK's ambition of 'Create in India'

In a demonstration of intent to accelerate collaboration with India across research, development and training, the UK defence delegation will engage a range of Indian stakeholders to reiterate the UK's ambition to not only Make in India but also to 'Create in India'. The UK delegation will take discussions forward on key offers for collaboration, such as strategic partnership for a jet engine development and maritime electric propulsion technology.

Minister for defence procurement Alex Chalk said, "As we continue to build the UK-India Comprehensive Strategic Partnership, I'm hugely excited to attend Aero India, another key opportunity to demonstrate the UK's commitment to strong bilateral relations and deliver on the 2030 road map. Recent collaborations on exercise with the Indian Navy, Army and Air Force underpin the strength of our two nations' commitment to work together to promote a free, open and secure Indo-Pacific region." After inaugurating Aero India 2023, Modi visited the Karnataka Pavilion.

DEFENCE SECRETARY ARAMANE MEETS 3 FOREIGN DELEGATIONS

Defence Secretary Giridhar Aramane held bilateral meetings with three defence delegations, including the delegates from the US, on Sunday. He met a US delegation led by Jedijiah P Royal, Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defence for Indo-Pacific Security Affairs, accompanied by Ambassador Elizabeth Jones, Charge D'Affairs US Embassy and Maj Gen Julian Cheator, US Air Force. A wide range of ongoing and future defence cooperation issues was discussed. Giridhar Aramane also met Engr Turki Saad, General Manager, Industrial Relations, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, and discussed a number of bilateral defence cooperation issues, besides holding talks with a delegation from Oman led by Mohammed Nasser Al Zaabi, Secretary General, Ministry of Defence. The ongoing defence cooperation was reviewed and possible opportunities for increasing the depth and scope of engagements were discussed.

India brings out its best metal birds

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE @Bengaluru

WITH a vision to showcase India as a force to reckon with in the defence space, Aero India 2023 took off to a scintillating start on Monday, showing off a significant chunk of the country's military aviation arsenal to an excited bunch of spectators.

The day was hot, but the mood was cheerful.

All eyes were transfixed on the sky above Air Force Station Yelahanka to catch a glimpse of a metal bird or two cutting through the air.

Even as Prime Minister Narendra Modi arrived to inaugurate the biennial air show, a quartet of Mi-17 helicopters, each carrying a flag — of India, Aero India, G20, and the Indian Air Force ensign, thundered over the runway, marking the beginning of flight proceedings to take place over the next few days.

This was followed by the rotary might of nine helicopters, led by the Light Utility Helicopter, along with some Advanced Light Helicopters Mark 3 of the Indian Coast Guard, ALH Mark 4 Rudra of the Indian Army, the Light Combat Helicopter Prachand, and the ALH Mark 1 of the IAF (Sarang).

The idea was to display some fine aircraft inventory from HAL's stable. Accordingly, Aero India's fly-past involved several aircraft flying in intricate, yet death-defying formations. For instance, four types of fighter aircraft — MiG 29, Rafale, Jaguar and Mirage 2000 — flew in the Arjun formation, while a fleet of LCAs roared across in the Arrow formation.

The dance in the air was also interspersed by graceful glides from IAF's AEW&CS Embraer, the C-17 Globemaster, and the Indian Navy's P8i multi-mission patrol aircraft.

CHIEF AT THE HELM

There was a special Gurukul formation as part of the flying display during the inauguration of Aero India 2023. This was led by an LCA Tejas, flown by Chief of Air Staff, Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari, himself, whose aircraft was flanked by a Hawk, IJT, and HTT 40, as part of the formation.

Post the inauguration, the sky came alive again with the onset of speed and sound. The Su-30 MKI took to the sky and performed some daring maneuvers, including the loop and slice, as the crowd below cheered. The LUH Prachand that followed packed some of its own punches, such as the rapid pull-up. With people awaiting the arrival of LCA Tejas, the compact, yet lethal fighter swiftly became airborne and showed off its capabilities. The cherry on the cake is indeed in the end. The nine-plane Suryakiran aerobatics team is always a crowd favourite. When the red-and-white aircraft took off, the mood became as exciting as it did nail-biting. To celebrate the Valentine's Day mood, three of the aircraft even drew an arrow through the heart in the sky, with smoke, much to the glee of spectators.

With the hymn being Atmanirbhar Bharat, India is leaving no stone unturned to present itself as not just a major defence market, but also one that can sustain itself through self-reliance, while producing wares for others.

Aero India is testimony to that vision, as the PM stated: "Today, Aero India is India's strength and not just a show."

Karnataka to play key role in making India a global power: Bommai

CHETAN MG @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that the State Government has planned to involve more than 45,000 youngsters in building defence technology and innovation in the next five years thereby playing a pivotal role in making India a leading global power.

Speaking at the inaugural event of the 14th edition of Aero India here on Monday, Bommai said: "We (Karnataka) are one of the leading states in aerospace and defence (production) and about 65% of the nation's defence production is from Bengaluru."

To make India the greatest global power, Karnataka will certainly be the greatest contributor in terms of economy, social order as well as defence production, he added. "Recently, the State Government introduced the Defence and Aerospace Policy under which we have planned to involve more than 45,000 youngsters in building the defence and aerospace industry in Bengaluru and other places in the next five years," Bommai said, assuring that Karnataka's performance in the sector will continue and Karnataka will continue to add to the strength and might of the defence forces.

Meanwhile, the CM thanked Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and the Ministry of Defence for choosing Bengaluru to host Aero India for the 14th time. "This edition is very special in terms of size, performance and exhibits. This is one of the largest air shows internationally. India has once again proved its capabilities in the defence sector and also in conducting the air show. The Paris air show was cancelled during Covid-19 times but we held the show in 2021," the CM said.

Don't undersell yourselves: Boeing India MD to veterans

Donna Eva @ Bengaluru: Boeing Defence India MD, former Rear Admiral and Navy test pilot Surendra Ahuja said retired veterans must not undersell themselves in terms of future careers. He was speaking at a seminar on 'Harnessing Potential of Ex-Servicemen for Emerging Indian Defence Industry' organised by the Department of Ex-Servicemen Welfare. "Very often, we tend to undersell ourselves. That is for the industry to assess us. Do not go for low-hanging fruit, understand how valuable you are..." he said. The seminar focused on schemes available to veterans, and how they can pursue second careers following their retirement.

Dassault's 3D platform

Donna Eva @ Bengaluru: To help in the Indian Defence Forces' aim of indigenising the defence sector, France-based Dassault Systèmes is showcasing it's 3D Experience Platform at Aero India. According to the company, its platform will help in ensuring optimisation and self-reliance in terms of digital business, and design, engineering and manufacturing in the aerospace and defence industries. In particular, 3D experience is expected to provide a singular platform for all business processes taking place within an industry, allowing for ease of inter-departmental collaborations as well as collaborations with private companies on part of the defence and aerospace sectors. The firm has stated that this will help in streamlining processes within the sectors in terms of designing, manufcturing, marketing and maintaining products used by the defence forces.

DEPLOY TECH EXPERTISE: PM MODI TO YOUTH

Modi said the nation, which once used to be among the largest importers of defence equipment for decades, is now exporting defence equipment to 75 countries. The perception towards Aero India, which used to be just a show and a window to sell to India, has now changed, he said. "Tejas, INS Vikrant, advanced manufacturing facilities in Surat and Tumakuru are the potential of Atmanirbhar Bharat and India's successes are bearing witness to its capabilities," he said. He invited the private sector to invest in the defence sector in India as that would create new opportunities for them in India and abroad as industry's growth is natural when there is demand, expertise and experience. The Prime Minister and delegates from 98 countries participating in the biggest ever show in Bengaluru witnessed spectacular flight display. The PM said Aero India is taking place in Karnataka which is the hub of India's technological advan-cement and it will open new avenues for the youth of Karnat-aka in the aviation sector. He appealed to youth to deploy their technological expertise in the defence sector to strengthen the country.

US' 5TH GEN F-35 STEALTH FIGHTER TO MAKE AERO INDIA DEBUT

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE @Bengaluru

The United States Air Force (USAF) is expected to fly its latest state-of-the-art fifth generation stealth fighter, the F-35A Lightning II, at Aero India 2023 on Tuesday. This will be the first time that this all-weather stealth multirole combat aircraft — capable of carrying out air superiority and strike missions — will fly at an Indian airshow.

The USA has confirmed that the aircraft would be part of daily flight demonstrations, along with the F-16 Fighting Falcon. A note from the US Consulate in Chennai read: "The USAF's newest fifth-generation fighter – the stealthy, supersonic, multirole F-35A Lightning II and F-35A Joint Strike Fighter – will make their debut at Aero India 2023."

The note added: "After a journey from Hill Air Force Base in Utah, the F-35A Lightning II Demonstration Team will impress crowds with a demo of its unique aerial capabilities. The F-35A Lightning II from Eielson Air Force Base in Alaska will be on static display."

The F-35's arrival at Aero India gains special significance in the background of growing Indo-US ties, and also when India is keen on rapidly modernising its Air Force. It reflects India's ascendancy as a major defence market and partner. In fact, in the past, reports were making the rounds about the US wanting to sell the F-35 to India, a 'rumour' which was denied by both countries. Apart from the aerial displays of the F-35 and F-16, the multirole F/A-18E and F/A-18F Super Hornets will be on static display.

The note said, "The F-35's engine produces 43,000 pounds of thrust and consists of a 3-stage fan, a 6-stage compressor, an annular combustor, a single stage high-pressure turbine, and a 2-stage low-pressure turbine."

Major General Julian C Cheater, Assistant Deputy Under Secretary of the Air Force, International Affairs, stated: "The F-35 represents the leading-edge of US fighter technology. Aero India is an ideal forum to showcase the most advanced, capable, lethal, and interoperable weapons systems the US has to offer."

In soft diplomacy outreach, PM meets film stars, cricketers, startup biggies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi, who was in Bengaluru for Aero India, met stars from the film, business and cricketing fraternity over dinner on Sunday, at the Raj Bhavan. Among them were Rishab Shetty, Yash and Ashwini Puneeth, wife of the late actor.

After the interaction, an elated Rishab Shetty said, "I consider PM Modi a great leader and I am very happy to meet him. He spoke about the Kannada film industry, and sought to know what is going on and what the film community requires.'' On Kantara, the movie which grossed about Rs 400 crore at the box office, he said, "The Prime Minister appreciated Kantara."

Modi also met superstar Yash, whose film KGF has been one of the biggest hits in Kannada, and appreciated the work of film makers from Karnataka in particular, and South India in general, and said they have given a boost to Indian culture.

On his meeting with the PM, Yash said, "He heard us out on our expectations, and shared his vision for the industry. I was impressed with the knowledge he has about the minute details of the industry, he called it soft power. He appreciated our work... it was very inspiring to meet the Prime Minister."

Modi, who met Ashwini Puneeth, remembered the late superstar Puneeth Rajkumar. It may be recalled that Ashwini had expressed gratitude that the government had named a road after the actor recently.

On meeting Prime Minister Modi, social media influencer Shraddha Jain aka Aiyyo Shraddha tweeted, "We shook hands as I entered the room & he said, "Aiyyo" — prefix to my social media handle...He told us how proud he was about the way South Indian film industry has showcased the beauty of our country. It was a privilege to meet PM Modi, he's an inspiration to every Indian. Had a wonderful discussion with him, and he shared his vision for a greater India.''

Prime Minister Narednra Modi also interacted with cricketers Javagal Srinath, Venkatesh Prasad, Anil Kumble, Mayank Agarwal and Manish Pandey.

Former pacer Venkatesh Prasad said, "It was a privilege to meet PM Modi, he is an inspiration to every Indian... It was a dream come true for me.''

The Prime Minister met achievers from the startup world, Zerodha's Nikhil and Nithin Kamath, Ather Energy's Tarun Mehta, and listened to their concerns about startups and shared his thoughts with them.

High cost, low production cited as reasons

MARX TEJASWI @ Shivamogga

MINISTER of Steel Jyotiraditya Scindia on Monday informed the Rajya Sabha that Visvesvaraya Iron and Steel Limited (VISL) in Bhadravathi will be closed due to unavailability of a captive iron ore mine, high cost and low volume of production due to obsolete technology, highly competitive alloy steel market and other factors.

Replying to a starred question from Rajya Sabha member Sanjay Singh if the Steel Authority of India Limited (SAIL) is closing many of its units, Scindia replied that SAIL is closing only VISL in accordance as per the decision of the central government.

Taking a jibe at the Centre, Rajya Sabha member Jairam Ramesh said that private steel companies have mines in the state but not SAIL's VISL. "It's amazing that private steel companies have mines in the state but not SAIL! This is despite Bhadravati being less than 250 km away from Ballari. In fact, mining lease was allocated in October 2011 but Modi Sarkar did nothing (sic)," he tweeted.

"The government accorded in principle approval for strategic disinvestment of VISP in October 2016. As the shortlisted bidders have expressed their inability to participate further for strategic disinvestment, the competent authority has approved the annulment of expression of interest for disinvestment. The process of closure of VISL has been initiated," Scindia said.

Listing out the reasons for the decision, he said there is high cost and low volume of production due to obsolete technology, high cost of raw materials such as coke and iron ore, highly competitive alloy steel market and the lack of operational captive iron ore mine in Karnataka.

Replying to another starred question by GC Chandrashekhar, he said efforts have been made for allocation of a mining lease of 140 hectares of iron ore mines in Ballari district, but it could not be made operational as it was entangled in litigation. The total investment in the plant and machinery has been ₹316 crore after VISL became a subsidiary of SAIL, he said.

TDP leaders booked for attacking woman

VIJAYAWADA : Opposition Telugu Desam Party (TDP) leaders from Vijayawada, Vaddadi Ramana and his brother Vaddadi Naresh, landed in soup for allegedly attacking a woman and her family members on Sunday. The Kothapet police registered a case of attempt to murder and other relevant sections. State Mahila commission chairperson Vasireddy Padma visited and consoled the victim and her family.

7 MPs seek Sudhakaran's removal as state Cong prez

VIJAYAWADA : Seven Congress MPs from the state have approached the party national leadership seeking removal of K Sudhakaran as the state president. The MPs first met national general secretary (organisation) K C Venugopal, who asked them to meet Tariq Anwar, national general secretary in charge of the state, the sources said. The MPs held one-to-one meetings with Anwar at the Congress Parliamentary Committee meeting hall at Parliament last Thursday, the sources added.

Pollcachi sex scam: HC junks plea against EPS

CHENNAI: The Madras HC on Monday dismissed a PIL seeking direction to inquire former CM Edappadi K Palaniswami in connection with the disclosure of the names of victims and complainants in the Pollcachi sexual harassment case. The first bench comprising Acting Chief Justice T Raja and Justice D Bharatha Chakravarthy imposed a cost of ₹50,000 on Balachandar Ganesan of Chennai, for filing the plea without being aware that Madurai Bench had already directed action against the officer.

Kalasa-Banduri: SC tells K'taka to get all nods

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

THE Supreme Court on Monday restrained Karnataka government from going ahead with the Kalasa-Banduri project until it gets the requisite approvals from all the authorities concerned including the Wildlife Warden of Goa.

The top court issued the order after hearing a plea filed by the Goa government demanding a stay on the project, which involves the diversion of Mahadayi waters to Karnataka.

According to highly-placed sources, the final hearing of the case will come up in July. Advocate General of Goa Devidas Pangam said that the apex court on Monday recorded its earlier order which stated that Karnataka cannot go ahead with any construction activities without obtaining all the required clearances.

The court also said that the matter is pending before the Chief Wildlife Warden of Goa who will decide whether Karnataka can divert the Mahadayi waters from the sanctuary under section 29 of the Wildlife Protection Act, Pangam said.

Meanwhile, Karnataka government is gearing up to execute the Kalasa-Banduri project work at Kankumbi on Goa border and is waiting for approval from the Ministry of Forests. State government sources clarified that the government will commence work on the project only after getting forest and wildlife clearances.

It may be noted that, last month, the Goa government had filed an interim application seeking stay of the approval granted by the Central Water Commission (CWC) to the Detailed Project Report (DPR) submitted by Karnataka government to divert river Mahadayi water through the Kalasa-Bandura rivulets.

The Goa government had vehemently opposed the approval granted to Karnataka's DPR contending that it was illegal to divert water via wildlife sanctuaries under the Act.

The Chief Wildlife Warden of Goa has already issued a show-cause notice to Karnataka government against carrying out work in the Mahadayi river basin.

Roads adjacent to E-way in bad state: JDS MLA

Bengaluru: With the much-awaited Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway all set for March opening, Melkote MLA Puttaraju alleged that the roads adjacent to the expressway are in a bad condition. Raising the issue in the Assembly on Monday during the Question Hour, he said: "PM Narendra Modi is expected to inaugurate the expressway in March. But the roads adjacent to it are in a bad state. The roads in my constituency are damaged owing to the frequent movement of heavy vehicles." "Melkote will soon host the famous Vairamudi festival. People in thousands will take part in it. If roads are in a bad condition, it will cause inconvenience to them," he added.

Review Nanjundappa report: Speaker to govt

Bengaluru: Speaker Vishveshwara Hegde Kageri urged the state government to review prof Nanjundappa's report on regional imbalances. Karnataka had categorised the taluks according to its development. He said that the report was prepared 25 years earlier and many taluks which were categorised as backward have now been developed. When Chittapura MLA Priyank Kharge alleged that grants were not being released for his reserved constituency, Kageri said that Nanjundappa report on regional imbalances in backward taluks needs to be reviewed. "It has been more than 25 years that report came and many thing has changed. State government should take for new report," he said. Law Minister JC Madhuswamy said that over many years, the backward taluks mentioned in the report have seen massive developments, and are now industrial areas. "Even the infrastructure department secretary has given a similar report and more details have been sought," he said.

Tiger attack deaths: 'Suspend forest officials'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AFTER the deaths of two relatives in tiger attack in south Kodagu, MLAs cutting across party lines demanded action against forest department officials for failing to capture the tiger. The legislators demanded that government officials concerned be suspended.

Virajpet MLA KG Bopaiah raised the issue during Zero Hour on Monday, and said, "Once these tigers get used to eating human flesh, they start entering human habitats often."

Bopaiah said the incident shows how irresponsible the forest department officials are, and demanded they be suspended. Congress MLA HP Manjunath from Hunsur Assembly constituency said, "This tiger issue has been prowling in our constituency. After such incidents, we give compensation, but don't think what happens to the families." He also said there has been another death in the family from shock after hearing the news of these two deaths.

Give shoot at sight order, say villagers

ENRAGED villagers gathered in large numbers and protested against the forest department. They demanded that shoot at sight order.

Meanwhile, Virajpet MLA KG Bopaiah alleged in the Assembly that foresters were absent at night and arrived only after the incidents.

Kodagu CCF, BN Murthy visited the spot and is camping in the region. A team of 150 foresters have been deployed to capture the tiger, and were given 20 weapons and 12 vehicles. "Two patrol teams have been formed. The tiger was spotted twice near the estate," he said. Meanwhile, Rs 5 lakh compensation has been handed over to the victims' kin. The foresters assured to release Rs 15 lakh each as total compensation.

17-yr-old visually impaired girl hacked to death by neighbours in Andhra

ENS @ Vijayawada

IN a shocking incident, a 17-year-old visually impaired girl was brutally hacked to death allegedly by her neighbour on Sunday for rejecting his love proposal in Tadepalli of Guntur district. The incident was reported within a half a kilometre from CM YS Jagan Mohan Reddy's residence.

The incident came to light on Monday morning when the family members of the deceased lodged a complaint with the police. According to Mangalagiri DSP Rambabu, the 28-year-old accused Nagapogu Dayananda Raju, a neighbour of the victim, barged into her house and attacked her indiscriminately with an axe for reportedly complaining about his misbehaviour to her aunt's family members.

Raju had been allegedly harassing the girl for quite a some time. On Sunday afternoon, Raju had allegedly touched the victim inappropriately while her parents left for their work. When they returned home around 6 pm, the minor girl narrated her ordeal. The victim's parents went to Raju's house and demanded an explanation but he denied the allegations. In five minutes, he allegedly hacked the girl to death with an axe.

Court sentences MLA Olekar, sons, officials in corruption case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A Special Court sentenced former minister and Haveri BJP MLA Nehru C Olekar, his two sons and five serving and retired officials to simple imprisonment for two years, and imposed a fine of Rs 2,000 each, on Monday. t was alleged that Nehru Olekar, accused No.1, in collusion with his sons, accused No.2 and 3, and the officials, bagged all government contracts without allowing any other individual to secure them, either by threat or other means.

Convicting and sentencing Olekar for criminal misconduct under Section 13(1) (d) read with Section 13(2) of the Prevention of Corruption Act, the court sentenced his sons -- Manjunath N Olekar and Devaraj N Olekar – under Section 198, 409, 420 of IPC, and the other accused to two years' simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs 2,000 each for offences punishable under Section 197 (issue of false certificate), 409 (criminal breach of trust), 420 (cheating and dishonesty) and 13(a) (d) read with Section 13(2) of the Prevention of Corruption Act.

The five officials are HK Rudrappa, deputy director (retired), Commerce and Industries department, HK Kallappa, assistant executive engineer (retired), Public Works Department, Shivakumar Puttaiah Kamadod, second division clerk, Shiggaon Town Municipality, PS Chandramohan, assistant executive engineer (retired), PWD, and K Krishna Naik, assistant engineer.

"The prosecution has proved the allegation that Manjunath Olekar procured false work done certificate for work worth Rs 1.50 crore and Rs 2.15 crore, through the influence of his father Nehru Olekar, who was MLA at the time of issue of certificates," said Judge B Jayantha Kumar.

"Perusal of documents shows that the accused Devaraj Olekar has furnished work done certificate for State Financial Corporations (SFC) package amounting to Rs 20 lakh and a document shows the SFC package work was allotted to HM Bhovi for Rs 19 lakh. So Devaraj has not carried out work under the SFC package. As per the false certificate, work was allotted through an order dated July 28, 2009, amounting to Rs 1.50 crore, for metalling and asphalting the road which connects Nehrunagar in Nagendranamatti and Karadigudda Road, and bears the signatures of other accused who knowing it to be false, has certified the same as genuine," the court noted, releasing the accused persons on bail.

Noting that all substantive sentences of imprisonment shall run concurrently, Judge Jayantha Kumar ordered Nehru Olekar to pay a total fine of Rs 2,000 and his two sons Rs 6,000 each, and the other four accused to pay Rs 8,000 each.

A total of Rs 10,000 of the total fine amount shall be paid to complainant Shashidhar Mahadevappa Hallikeri towards compensation, as he filed a private complaint and spent the amount for collecting some documents.

Steer clear of drink driving or end up writing imposition

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

BEFORE you think about driving across the city after having a peg or two, make sure your handwriting is good.

For if you are caught, you may have to write something along the lines of 'I won't drive under the influence of alcohol' at least 1,000 times, besides facing action under the relevant laws, before the police let you leave.

This is what happened to 16 bus drivers who were caught drink-driving during a special drive held under the leadership of Hill Palace SHO V Gopakumar between 5am to 9pm on Monday. Two squads of the Hill Palace police deployed at Karingachira and Vaikom roads in Tripunithura caught the drivers, who were then taken to the police station and made to write the imposition before being released on station bail.

Alarmingly, four of the 16 offenders caught were school bus drivers while two were KSRTC bus drivers. The rest drove private buses.

Though the police's decision to make the offenders write imposition drew criticism from some quarters, the officers justified their action, saying the offenders were eligible for station bail and so, the punishment – making them write the imposition – was a corrective measure. After catching the drivers, the police made alternative travel arrangements for the affected passengers from the Tripunithura bus stand. Officers in plainclothes took students to their respective schools.

MDN BIOPIC MAY SEE DHANANJAYA IN LEAD ROLE

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

A biopic on the legendary farmer activist from Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha prof MD Nanjundaswamy (MDN) will be ready in a year or so with noted actor Dhananjaya showing interest to take up the lead role and also be the producer.

Actor-politician Ramya has been shortlisted to play Pratima Nanjundaswamy, according to MDN's son, Pacche.

"Dhananjaya spoke to me three months ago, and we have been developing a story line," he told TNIE. Looking at the socio-political landscape through the prism of MDN, it is also likely to show his relationship with former chief minister Siddaramaiah.

MDN returned to India after obtaining a degree in law from Hague Academy of International Law, the Netherlands. In Germany and France, he was exposed to constitutional laws. He had taught law in in Bengaluru and Mysuru universities in 1964, and was one of the founders of KRRS in 1980. In 1989, he was elected as an independent MLA.

The scholarly leader was a staunchly against globalisation, and had even led hundreds of farmers into a protest outside Switzerland's Swiss bank and other mammoth MNCs as their policies were allegedly anti-farmer. He biopic will showcase all these facets of his life.

"I have about 300 hours of footage on him, of which 80 could be converted into scenes in the film. The movie would be released in five languages -- Kannada, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam and Hindi -- and would be dubbed in English," Pacche told TNIE, adding that he hopes that the movie is at par with 'Yatra' on former Andhra Pradesh chief minister YS Rajashekar Reddy and Richard Attenborough's 'Gandhi'.

This cricketer's acrobatic catch goes viral globally

Belagavi: A spectacular catch taken by a local cricketer in a recent local tennis ball cricket tournament in Belagavi has thrilled the cricketing world. Several noted international cricketers, including Sachin Tendulkar, have taken to twitter to shower their appreciation on the Belagavi cricketer Kiran Tarlekar for his acrobatic style of catching the ball on the ground's boundary.The tennis ball cricket tournament 'Shree Chashak' match was being played at the Vaccine Depot ground. When the batsman tried to hit a sixer on long on, Tarlekar jumped above the boundary line and held the ball in the air. Before landing outside the boundary line, he threw the ball in the air, before landing and again jumping in the air to kick the ball acrobatically like a football towards another team-mate inside the boundary line. Amazed at the novel catching technique on the boundary, Tendulkar tagged the video of Tarlekar's catch on his Twitter handle and wrote, "This is what happens when you bring a guy who also knows how to play football!!" Tendulkar tagged the video which was first tweeted by Omkar Mankame, an engineer-turned cricket writer from Mumbai.

AUSSIES MUST STOP BLAMING PITCH, FOCUS ON TECHNIQUE INSTEAD

The more things change, the more they remain the same. That truism applies to all teams that come to play Tests in India. They change captains, bring new spinners, fly down domestic bowlers for invaluable net practice and prepare for months. Yet, by the time they start the series, it's already an uneven contest. In this context, the first Test of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy in Nagpur was on expected lines. Australia may have won the toss, but in the end, India won everything since. They won mini duels, they won the big contests and they won each and every session. After seven sessions, they won the Test. At home, it was their 35th victory since the beginning of 2013. In that period, they have lost only two matches; one against Australia (2017) and one to England (2021).

To put it simply, India are almost invincible at home because they have an all-time great collection of pacers and spinners. Over five days, they are more likely to take 20 wickets when compared to the opponents. While the focus has always been on the two Ravis, Jadeja and Ashwin, people tend to forget how good Mohammed Shami, Bhuvneshwar Kumar, Ishant Sharma and Umesh Yadav have been over the last decade or so. Add to that the likes of Jasprit Bumrah, Mohammed Siraj and Axar Patel and this dominance is likely to continue.

It's because all the above-mentioned bowlers know how to make the best use of the conditions on offer (at home). Allegations of pitch doctoring—sure, some Indian pitches have been extreme in the 10-year period in question—do exist but they don't hold much water because India's pacers have also been very effective. Sometimes, visiting teams get themselves so worked up over pitches that they lose half the battle even before the first ball. The first Test at Nagpur is a case in point. Australia's batters looked at a few bald spots and decided it was akin to an adult cobra, especially for their left-handed batters.

Australia's left-handed batters made 67 across two innings. Two of India's left-handed spin all-rounders, Jadeja and Axar, both crossed that mark. It says a lot about how visiting teams lose the battle in the mind. With three more Tests (at Delhi, Indore and Ahmedabad) to play, Australia definitely will need more than just technique to claw back into the series. For India though, anything less than a thumping win will be considered a loss.

RAISE BIOSAFETY NORMS TO COMBAT BIRD FLU

The largest outbreak of avian influenza (H5N1) in recorded history has worried the scientist community the world over. In the USA, over 57 million poultry birds have been affected within a year. It is not the farmed birds causing the concerns though. Migratory birds, through their cross-continent flyways, have spread H5N1 across the globe, leaving scores of mammalian species sick with the virus. In Europe, Africa and both the Americas, a new strain of the bird flu—as it is popularly called—has since been detected among sea lions, seals, dolphins, foxes, otters and ferrets. Grizzly bears and lions, too, have fallen prey to the virus, worrying virologists over the possible mammalian transmission.

After it was first detected in China in 1996 and the world woke up to a deadly outbreak in Hong Kong the next year, avian influenza has not abated. Vaccines came as a shield while intense research by the scientific community, surveillance and protective measures helped the global community grapple with the transmission from infected birds. For a virus that inflicts a 50% fatality rate among infected humans, the only silver lining so far is the low jump rate from birds. Human-to-human transmission is unheard of so far.

In October last year, a Spanish farm had over 52,000 mink infected with H5N1 and all had to be euthanised. No humans in the region tested positive, but the transmission was possibly mammalian which fuelled intense concern—will avian influenza trigger the next pandemic? H5N1 more effectively infects birds due to the presence of a certain cell receptor which is absent in mammals, but genome sequencing from the Spanish mink farm revealed mutation. Earlier this month, Dr Tedros Ghebreyesus, World Health Organisation chief, warned that although cases have been rare since 1996, "we must prepare for any change in the status quo." Highly pathogenic viruses need more and more hosts to evolve and mutate, which is one concern the global virologist community knows must not become a reality in the case of avian influenza.

It is, therefore, imperative that every country, including India, raises biosafety protocols, research and surveillance. The world is yet to fully come out of the traumatic experience of social, economic and emotional devastation caused by SARS-CoV-2. All one can hope is—not another, please.

QUICK TAKE

MAKE PARLIAMENT PRODUCTIVE

Parliament has gone into a month-long recess and will reassemble on March 14. Apart from the crucial Finance Bill, over a dozen other bills will also be taken up. The first part turned out to be a washout over demand for discussion on issues ranging from the Adani Group's alleged stock manipulation, Chinese activities on the LAC, and the sparring between the judiciary and the executive. Parliament has been locked in a cycle of stalemate and washout. It has failed to function as per the wishes of our founding fathers. Both sides need to rise above partisan concerns to ensure a productive legislature.

QUANTIFYING THE ENVY OF THE CITY WE LIVE IN

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The recent chaos on the Adani issue has me thinking. There is a conspiracy theory doing the rounds. A theory that says that the entire issue is all about country jealousy. The whole world is jealous of the fact that India is on the rise. An Indian persona has actually dared to emerge as a front-runner among the hallowed list of the richest in the world. An Indian has actually dared to outrun many businesses across the globe. Add to it the fact that India is growing at the rate of anything between 6% to 7% in GDP terms when the rest of the world is in a bit of a limbo. Add one more bit to it all: India is likely to rob the world of its jobs.

The Indian is seen to be that much more prosperous in the near future than anyone else in the world. Indians and people of Indian origin are seen to be occupying high offices all across the world, be it political, economic, social, sports-related or even religious.

Is the world by and large jealous of India and, in turn, the Indian? Is this reason enough to go after India in every fora there is to use? Is the global media being used to do this systematically? And is the Indian political leadership sensitive to this?

Many questions. I have no answer to any of them. I do, however, have an answer of sorts to a related question. Is city jealousy a thing?

This is an arena I have been researching over the last 26 months. I have run a qualitative exercise on this very question across six cities and 17 Tier-II cities in India. I have picked the biggest cities of them all. I have chosen cities that have enjoyed a very high status in the last hundred years. I have picked cities that have been touted to be the political capital, the cultural capital, the commercial capital, the technology capital, and cities that enjoy tags of the similar kind. I have chosen upstart cities like Rajkot that defy the paradigm of development. I have chosen post-pandemic cities that have enjoyed a huge influx of new people settling in them as well. The urban agglomeration of Goa is one such, if you can call it an agglomeration of the urban by now.

My 23-city research, then, has posed some basic questions. The first few relate to the city they live in. What do they like? What do they hate? What do they think is their cutting-edge offering for the future? What would they want to see corrected? And many such questions like this. And then I move on to the city they admire the most: Why do they admire these cities? What do they visualise to be the future of these cities? How would they rank their city against this gold-standard, benchmark city? And finally, I move in for the kill. I get to the real intent of this research exercise at hand. How many of you are envious of this city? And is this conscious envy or subconscious, if not totally unconscious?

Over to the results then. The outcome at hand is an eye-popping one. Firstly, everyone who lives in a city is totally proud of it. And there are three kinds:

The first is the one who was born in the city and has links that are umbilical in a manner of speaking. Many in this category feel they are sons and daughters of the city and are indeed closely connected to it. The soil of the city and everything it represents in terms of food, clothing, culture, festivities and most importantly, language. Language is that big binding force and connect. This facet is passionate to the point of having a specific manner of speaking and intonation. A Kannadiga in Bengaluru speaks Kannada differently than a Kannadiga in Mangaluru or a Kannadiga in Dharwad. This way of speaking is also a way of distinction, as it is a point of ownership.

The second is the old resident of the city. This is the persona and family that has made the city its home. It does not matter where they were born; they have adopted the new city they live in. They are as local as any local. They are totally domiciled in every manner of speaking. People in this bracket love their new city as well. Their love at times, in comparison, is deeper than those who were born there. In many ways, when you choose a city, it is a conscious choice. When you are born in it, it is happenstance.

The third is the new resident of the city. These are folks who have arrived in the city either by choice or by force. They work here. Many are still on the voters list of the city their parents live in. They are more or less temporary residents of the new city. They will work here, earn their living, and possibly even make tentative real-estate investments in the city to see their money grow. However, in more ways than one, their love for their original city remains intact. They want to get back to where they "belong" some day or the other.

The fourth category we have explored in this research is the visitor to the city. They have heard of the city and come in to discover and partake of its charms. They will visit Goa and enjoy everything it has to offer. They hate the traffic lineups during peak season, they hate the waiting time at restaurants, and yet they will come in hordes. They use the city to usurp its charms and then leave it to return again. They are temporary visitors.

People in each of these four categories have their own takes on the city. If I am to aggregate it all without the complexity of confusing numbers, the end result is a glaring one. Listing the inference point by point:

Those who own a city in their minds and hearts love the city in completeness, never mind its many downsides. They are proud of their city. They will defend its every defect, many as they are likely to be.

Those who fall in the latter two categories enjoy the city and what it has to offer, but will still criticise its every defect. They will highlight it brightly, underline it and write it in bold as well. Social media is a special space for them in this exercise. In many ways, they are jealous of the city. They compare it with their own all the while.

Those who live in other cities and love their own, are essentially jealous of the city that is in the limelight today. They will not admit it openly, but in my current and ongoing research exercise, in confidence, 84.2% confess to this guilt. If at all a guilt. When an opportunity arises, they will celebrate the downfall of the city, and stay completely silent and critical on its every upside.

Is city jealousy a thing? My research says it is. Touché.

THE SINKING PULSE OF GREEN REVOLUTION

ARUN SINHA

Independent journalist and the author of Against the Few: Struggles of India's Rural Poor

The British had left us a nation where the hearth in many homes was not always aflame. Farmers ploughed their lands as their grandfathers did, to survive, not to produce a national surplus. The State did not know how to feed the hungry. When rainfall vanished for two years in the mid-1960s and India became a global feast for starvation photography, it had to beg a taunting America for shipments of wheat.

A mortified State clutched at Norman Borlaug's high-yielding wheat varieties as a boon. Soon, it also found high-yielding varieties of rice. But a desperate State made an epochal error there.

It bet on Punjab, Haryana and west Uttar Pradesh to produce wheat and rice for the nation. These states were relatively suitable for wheat, but not rice. The best states for rice were West Bengal, Odisha, Bihar and Assam.

However, the State, faced with the choice of a begging bowl or a boiling pot, would not care. The three northern states were fostered and pampered for growing rice along with wheat because they had good irrigation, unlike the eastern states that were largely rainfed.

As a consequence, rice has been corroding the Punjab-Haryana-western UP farms as rust does iron. Every sowing adds another coat of rust to the iron. The farms are rusting away. Both the State and the farmers have been making a wild noise over emaciation of farms, but neither of them have done anything transformatory.

Chemicals have swallowed the soil's innate nutrients. A crippled soil has now become their slave. The water for irrigation is depleting. About 3,500 litres of water is needed to produce one kg of rice, compared to 1,350 litres for wheat and 900 litres for maize.

To take Punjab's example, the state extracts 28 billion cubic metres (bcm) of groundwater annually, while its annual recharge is 19 bcm, which is unsustainable. Tubewells have to dive deeper and deeper to find water.

Why are the green revolutionaries growing rice and wheat at such a rapid pace? Why are they digging their own graves? The answer is: they earn the highest from the two crops. In 2018–19, a Punjab farmer earned ₹75,000 from rice, ₹26,000 from potato, ₹15,000 from maize and ₹9,000 from gram per hectare.

The State has built a robust public ecosystem that guarantees the green revolutionaries high returns from rice and wheat. There is no such ecosystem for other crops.

There lies the root of the ongoing conflict between the Modi government and the Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM). The State wants to liquidate the public ecosystem and raise a private ecosystem over its ruins. The SKM wants the State not only to retain the public ecosystem but also to expand it beyond rice and wheat to cover other crops.

PTI

The government bet on Punjab, Haryana and west Uttar Pradesh to produce wheat and rice for the nation. These states were relatively suitable for wheat, but not rice. The best states for rice were West Bengal, Odisha, Bihar and Assam

The SKM's position is more rational than the State's. Most farmers in its movement come from Punjab, Haryana and western UP and can see their farms bleeding unstoppably from the rice-wheat cycle.

They want to diversify to other crops, but they do not want their income to fall in the process. That is why the SKM is demanding an ecosystem starting with a legally guaranteed MSP for all the 23 crops (seven cereals, five pulses, seven oilseeds, four commercial crops) the State fixes a base price for.

Without an ecosystem that brings them assured good returns from alternative crops, the farmers are not going to grow them in a part or whole of their land. Both the Central and state governments have to work to build a robust ecosystem for them. Their approach to move farmers out of paddy in the past two decades has not been holistic. They have been trying to kill the tiger with a slingstone.

In 2013–14, the Central government started a crop diversification programme for the Green Revolution states. The programme is shackled by a miserly and myopic approach. It has demonstrated to several farmers how to grow alternative crops but failed to motivate them to actually grow these crops.

Last year, the Punjab government announced MSP for moong and also promised to procure all of it. The area for moong rose from 50,000 acres in 2021 to 1.25 lakh acres as a result. However, over 80% of the moong harvest arriving at the mandis was sold at below MSP rate, deluding the farmers.

In 2020, the Haryana government announced it would pay farmers ₹7000 per acre of diversified crop if they moved out of paddy. It has not motivated farmers, for a cash incentive—with a hundred bureaucratic tantrums—is not enough. They want a robust ecosystem for good returns.

The State motivated the farmers of Punjab, Haryana and western Uttar Pradesh to grow rice and wheat by not just fixing an MSP, but also investing in R&D to develop newer varieties to suit different climates and types of soil.

It sent its officials to villages to guide the farmers adopting the new varieties. It gave subsidies to farmers to buy farm equipment. It subsidised irrigation and power. It procured rice and wheat.

Agriculture in green revolution states cannot be saved unless a substantial part of rice cultivation is moved from there to eastern states. And that can be done only when the State builds robust ecosystems for alternative crops as it had done for rice and wheat. The State need not procure the harvests of alternative crops. Once there is a legally guaranteed MSP, farmers can sell their harvests to private players. And that can lead to higher private investment in storage, processing, marketing, transportation and exports of alternative crops. That can also prick a hole in the balloon of State expenditure on edible oils and pulses imports.

Adani-Hindenburg saga

Apropos of Adani group down but far from out (Feb 13). Opposition parties are more interested in linking Adani with Modi than finding out the real issue. Without any evidence, they consider the Hindenburg Report as gospel truth, without hearing his case in the 413-page reply. This is really not good for democracy; instead of constructive criticism, there is a blame game going on.

Makes one introspect

Apropos of A dancing girl and the sanyasi (Feb 13). In the column, there is a line, "Used to living on free food, he had no appreciation for those who worked hard for survival." Everything in me just stopped, just to ponder.

India's begging problem

Apropos of 19K children live on India's streets, 882 fend for themselves (Feb 13). It is not an unusual sight to see a child begging on India's streets. How can the nation advance if the next generation must eke out an existence on the streets? It is our responsibility to ensure they are spared from the system's brutality.

Namesake democracy

Apropos of The rich are voting with their feet (Feb 13). We are a democracy only in name. Actually, it is a plutocracy. After the advent of economic reforms, a new breed of political mafia emerged. Their only goal is to perpetuate their political and economic dynasties, and unfortunately, law enforcement agencies have become their pawns. It is creating an ecosystem where freedom to express opinions is fraught with the danger of being implicated in false cases.

Protecting humans

Apropos of Killing tigers is not a solution (Feb 12). This is the time to seriously discuss measures to save human life. Will animal lovers pour out their love and discuss long-term solutions if their own kith and kin are facing this problem? Madhav Gadgil's call for an immediate response, including culling of animals that attack, arises from an in-depth study of the situation and his concern for human life. 'Climate justice part of sustainable development'

Government is spreading awareness about how to exist in harmony with nature, says Union Minister Bhupender Yadav

THERE are many expectations from India on the global climate strategy as the country cranks up on the development front. India's sheer size is an indication that its energy demand will grow hugely. Bhupender Yadav, the Union Cabinet Minister of Labour and Employment, Environment, Forest and Climate Change, says India stands for climate justice that entails that people are pulled out of poverty. This is in sync with the Sustainable Development Goals, he tells Rajesh Kumar Thakur in an interview. Excerpts:

What specific initiatives has your ministry taken to meet the net-zero emission targets?

India is among the very few nations to have submitted the long-term low emission development strategy (LT-LEDS) to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, which lays the path towards net-zero emission by 2070. Our LT-LEDS rests on seven key transitions. These are: low-carbon development of electricity systems consistent with development; integrated, efficient, inclusive low-carbon transport system; adaptation in urban design, energy and material-efficiency in buildings, and sustainable urbanization; economy-wide decoupling of growth from emissions; CO2 removal and other engineering solutions; enhancing the forest and vegetation cover consistent with socio-economic and ecological considerations, and economic and financial aspects of low-carbon development.

The PM says India will generate 500 GW energy through non-fossil fuel by 2030. What steps are you taking?

The Indian Railways is fast electrifying its vast network. It will be fully electrified by 2030, reducing as much as 80 billion tonnes of emission. PM Modi has also initiated the National Green Hydrogen Mission for a clean and renewable energy source in the country. Budget 2023-24 has allocated a fund of Rs 19,700 crore for it. There is a major push for LED bulbs and this transition will cut down on nearly 40 billion tonnes of emissions.

How are we doing on the forest front?

Between 2019 and 2021, India's forest and tree cover rose by 2,261 sq km. Forest and tree cover is now spread across 80.9 million hectares, which is 24.62% of India's geographical area.

When you talk of carbon sinks, you need to understand that there are other systems as well, for which our government is working. The Union Budget lays out the roadmap for MISHTI (Mangrove Initiative for Shoreline Habitats & Tangible Incomes), PM PRANAM (Prime Minister Programme for Restoration, Awareness, Nourishment and Amelioration of Mother Earth) and Amrit Dharohar, which encourages optimal use of wetlands.

India was the third largest CO2 emitter by volume in 2020. Our target to reach net-zero emissions remains 2070, which is not in line with the Paris Agreement...

It is an erroneous way of looking at progress that we have made. India's climate actions exceed its moral and legal responsibility. India's sheer size and scope for growth is an indication that its energy demand will also grow faster than any other economy. Even COP15, UN Biodiversity Conference, held in December 2022, recognized the 'right to development' for developing nations. India stands for climate justice and that entails that the people are pulled out of poverty. This is in sync with the Sustainable Development Goals. India with more than 17% of the global population has contributed only about 4% of the global cumulative greenhouse gas emissions between 1850 and 2019. India is, in fact, the only G20 nation well on track to achieve the goals mentioned under the Paris Agreement. We are not lagging; we are leading.

> India with over 17% of the global population has contributed 4% of global cumulative greenhouse gas emissions from 1850-2019
>
> Bhupender Yadavi, Minister for Environment, Forest & Climate Change

Amid a dissonance between development and environment, there is a demand that developed countries do more...

India doesn't see environment protection and development as necessarily antagonistic. PM Modi has shown that both can go together. India's stated policy is mindful resource utilization over mindless consumption. The developed countries can begin with an acceptance that the developed world precipitated the problem. They must release the promised climate finance fund without a delay, allowing the technology transfer needed for climate action.

India has stressed blending the traditional practices in day-to-day living for a sustainable future. How is your ministry contributing to this initiative?

India believes 'our solutions are in nature'. Oneness with nature is the Indian way of life and it is time to shift to this way. PM Modi has given the world the mantra of LiFE, Lifestyle for Environment. My ministry is spreading greater awareness about existing in harmony with nature through 'Prakriti.' This involves adopting small changes in everyday life.

The NCR faces AQI issues every winter. Any long-term measures to deal with it?

I agree the problem is recurring. I feel it is important to underline that the situation is getting better. The Continuous Ambient Air Quality Monitoring Station data for Delhi reveals that annual concentration of particulate matter has declined since 2016. We have already achieved a significant reduction in stubble burning.

IAF clears more than 119 routes for commercial flights

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Indian Air Force (IAF) has released 119 'conditional' air routes for commercial flight operations, which will bring down consumption of aviation turbine fuel (ATF), travelling time and cut carbon emissions. The availability of airspace for civilian use will lead to potential saving of ₹1,000 crore per annum to airlines.

Briefing about the decision, Union Tourism and Culture Minister G Kishan Reddy on Monday said that the matter had been debated over the years but due to indecision civilian flights had to detour.

"The issue was discussed at different levels in the government. The IAF, which controls the airspace, has agreed to leave the upper air space for civilian use under Atmanirbar Bharat initiative and around 119 conditional routes were given the nod," said the minister.

A conditional route (CDR) is a route or a portion, which can be planned or used under certain specified conditions only. Around 40 per cent of the airspace was unavailable for civilian use till now forcing the airlines to adopt circuitous routes, leading to inefficient use of fuel and time along with avoidable extra expenditure.

"IAF controls 30 per cent of national airspace out of which 30 per cent has been released as upper airspace under flexible use of airspace (FUA)," Reddy added. FUA is an airspace management concept based on the principle that airspace should not be designated purely as civil or military, but rather as a continuum in which all user requirements are accommodated.

He added under regional connectivity scheme (RCS) Udan, the government so far has spent ₹2,360 crore as viability gap funding to compensate the losses of the airlines operating on non-profitable routes.

"Till 2026, the target is to start 1,000 routes to connect small towns," Reddy added.

House adjourned till March 13 amid ruckus

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

AMID pandemonium created by the Opposition with demands for a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) into the Hindenburg report and the revocation of the suspension of a Congress MP, the first round of the Budget session of Rajya Sabha was adjourned till March 13 on Monday.

The session was marred by the disruptions caused by the Opposition remaining adamant on the demand for a JPC probe into the allegations against the Hindenburg report on the Adani Group. The Congress MPs also created a ruckus against the suspension of Rajani Patil for allegedly sharing a video clip of proceedings of the House on social media.

> Leader of Opposition, you have said that the chair is working under pressure from the government. It is beyond my comprehension how members can behave like this and attack the Constitution
> Jagdeep Dhankhar, RS Chairman

"The Congress MP has been suspended by the chairman under pressure from the Modi government," alleged Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge and others. Irked at this, RS Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar said. "Leader of Opposition, you have said so many times that the chair is working under pressure from the government. These words are deleted and you are violating your right to remain on the floor of the House". The RS Chairman's repeated appeals to the Opposition members to bring order in the House went unheeded and he eventually adjourned the House. Throughout the session, the Opposition members continued raising the demand for a JPC probe on the Adani issue and revocation of Rajani Patil's suspension.

In the same vein, when Mallikarjun Kharge started speaking, the members from the treasury benches started raising slogans that also created pandemonium for some time in the House. Several members of Opposition also trooped into the Well of the House protesting against Patil's suspension and demanding a JPC probe in to the Hindenburg report on the Adani Group.

Peeved by the situation, Dhankhar said, "The whole world is watching us. It is beyond my comprehension how members can behave like this and attack the Constitution". Earlier, Congress MP Pramod Tiwari had urged the Chair to revoke Patil's suspension in the best traditions of the House and order a JPC probe. As the ruckus continued from the Opposition side with allegations against the Chair, Leader of the House and Union Minister Piyush Goyal termed it as an insult of the House.

He also asked Opposition MPs to first apologise for their behaviour during PM Modi's speech while replying to the Motion of Thanks. "Only after that, your demand for revocation of suspension deserves to be considered," he remarked.

This further infuriated the Opposition MPs who resorted to more slogans. Lok Sabha too was adjourned on Monday for a month-long recess and will meet again on March 13.

Rahul Gandhi gets breach of privilege notice over remarks on PM

New Delhi: Congress leader Rahul Gandhi has been asked to reply to a breach of privilege notice sent against him by two BJP MPs over his speech in Parliament on February 7 on the Hindenburg-Adani row. He has been asked to furnish a reply by February 15 to Lok Sabha speaker Om Birla. BJP MPs Nishikant Dubey and Pralhad Joshi alleged that Rahul Gandhi had misled the House by making unsubstantiated allegations against PM Modi in his speech. Gandhi had levelled several allegations against the Centre which were, incidentally, later expunged from the record. Meanwhile, Congress MP and party leader in Lok Sabha Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury on Monday wrote to the Speaker defending Rahul Gandhi. "As a representative of the people of this country, Rahul Gandhi raised this issue in the floor of the House and by doing so, he has fulfilled his duty as an elected representative. The issue was raised in 'public interest' and 'for the service of the nation," he wrote.

Only 20% of 10 lakh govt schools have internet: Centre tells House

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THERE are over 10 lakh government schools in India, but only 2 lakh have internet facilities, Minister of State for Education Subhas Sarkar informed the Lok Sabha on Monday. Delhi is the only state where all the 2,762 government schools have internet facilities. In Puducherry (422) and Chandigarh (123) too, all the government schools are equipped with internet connectivity, Sarkar said in a written reply.

Closely followed by Lakshadweep, where 37 of the 38 schools, have internet connection, as per the Unified District Information System for Education, a database developed by the education ministry. Among the states, in Kerala, 4,738 out of 5,010 government schools have internet. But the other southern states fare low on the list. Of the 49,679 government schools in Karnataka, only 5,308 schools have internet facilities. In Tamil Nadu, 9,292 government schools out of 37,636, and in Andhra Pradesh, 20,313 out of 45,137 schools are similarly equipped. Among the states faring poorly are Uttar Pradesh (12,074 out of 137,024 schools), Madhya Pradesh (16,469 out of 92,695 schools) and Bihar (4,421 out of 75,558 schools). An advisory has been issued by the department of school education and literacy to all the states and UTs to sign an agreement with BSNL and provide FTTH Internet connection to all the government schools, Sarkar said.

POWER CORRIDOR

INDIA TO BE DEVELOPED AS 'AVIATION HUB'

Union minister VK Singh on Monday informed the RS that the government is working to create an aviation hub in India. In a written reply to the Rajya Sabha, Singh said the civil aviation ministry has consulted the stakeholders and also asked the aviation industry to come together to develop India as a hub for aviation. He also said that the airlines are inducting wide body aircraft and increasing their fleet size.

OVER 250 KVs IN TEMPORARY SPACES

Union education minister Subhash Sarkar informed the RS that more than 250 Kendriya Vidyalaya (KVs) across the country are functioning in temporary buildings. In a written reply, he said, "As per information no KV is operational in rented accommodation but functional in temporary buildings."

'NO PROJECT TO REWRITE HISTORY'

The Indian Council of Historical Research has not launched any project to "rewrite Indian history" but is working on incorporating all prominent figures and incidents that are not part of history books", said Union Education Minister Dharamendra Pradhan on Monday in the Lok Sabha.

Make sure what is expected is done: SC to Centre on judges' appointment

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday expressed its concern regarding the issue of appointment of judges whose names are recommended by the collegium, and asked the Centre to "make sure what is expected is done". The SC was hearing a contempt plea filed by the Advocates Association of Bengaluru against the Centre's alleged delay in approving the recommendations made by the SC collegium.

Taking note of the recent developments that had taken place with regard to the appointment of SC and HC judges, the bench headed by Justice SK Kaul said, "Some developments have taken place but more needs to be done. I am concerned with some issues. There are issues more than one. Please make sure that most of it what is expected is done. Please communicate to AG." Representing the petitioner, Senior Advocate Arvind Datar told the bench that although the Centre had approved some proposals which were made by the collegium, it had also withheld some names.

Referring to a chart dealing with the status of the recommendations, he pointed out the instance of Justice K Vinod Chandran, currently a judge of the Kerala HC. "In some cases, the recommendations made of February 7 and 9 have been approved in 2-3 days but some appointments have not been done," Datar said. "Issue can't go on like this endlessly. Some appointments they do selectively. At some point your lordships will have to crack the whip," advocate Prashant Bhushan told the bench.

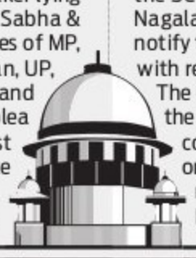
Notice in petition plea seeking polls

The SC on Monday issued notice in a plea seeking initiation of elections to the post of Dy Speaker lying vacant in Lok Sabha & legislative assemblies of MP, Rajasthan, UP, Uttarakhand and Jharkhand. The plea argued that the post is still vacant despite lapse of three and a half years.

'Threat of violence invalid for poll delay'

Remarking that threat of "violence" cannot be cited for postponing the elections, the SC on Monday directed Nagaland government to notify the local elections with reservation for women. The court also directed the state election commission to place on record the election notification by March 14, 2023.



HAL unveils supersonic jet trainer model

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) unveiled the scale model of the Hindustan Lead-in Fighter Trainer (HLFT-42), at the 14th edition of Aero India held in Bengaluru on Monday.

Talking to the newspaper, HAL test pilot Group Captain HV Thakur (Retd) said that HLFT-42 will be similar to the recently approved projects like the LCA MK II and eventually the Advanced Medium Combat Aircraft (AMCA). It should have similar sensors and weapons. Obviously, the simulators and simulations should be of that capability as well," he said.

The aircraft has a unique tail art of the Hindu God Maruti, symbolizing strength, speed, and agility, according to HAL. With the tagline "the storm is coming", HLFT-42 is the 'Next Gen Supersonic Trainer' that will play a "critical role" in modern combat aircraft training with state-of-the-art avionics like Active Electronically Scanned Array, Electronic Warfare Suite, Infrared Search and Track with Fly by Wire control system, the HAL said.

HAL unveiled HLFT-42 jet in Bengaluru on Monday | EXPRESS

With the tagline "the storm is coming", HLFT-42 is the 'Next Gen Supersonic Trainer' that will play a "critical role" in modern combat aircraft training with state-of-the-art avionics like Active Electronically Scanned Array, Electronic Warfare Suite, Infrared Search and Track with Fly by Wire control system, the HAL said.

According to the HAL, the HLFT-42 trainer, which is aimed at preparing fighter pilots to comprehensively for the fifth-generation aircraft, incorporates an ultra-modern training suite, enabling hyper-real combat situations to train pilots in a perfectly safe, standardised and efficient flying environment.

AMCA is a project to develop the fifth-generation fighters. Also, the Twin Engine Deck Based Fighter (TEDBF) is another project to develop an advance maritime fighter to be based on Indian air craft carriers. The projected timelines for their development are end of this decade or early 2030s.

"To fill today's needs and for tomorrow's aircraft like the Light Combat Aircraft Mark II, we have to have a very high-performance trainer to go along with them. The trainer needs to have similar capabilities. As a leading fighter trainer, it is very efficiently made. It will do exactly the same task that it is supposed to. The trainer will be very similar to the fighter aircraft of the next generation," the Group Captain (Retd) said.

The IAF pilots are trained on three levels - the basic trainer, the intermediate trainer and the advanced trainer. The basic trainer is for all kinds of pilots, including the helicopter. In advanced are the AJT or the Hawk-I of the HAL kind of aircraft that trains the fighter pilots to learn how to manoeuvre the aircraft; it never goes supersonic, never does any missile firing, does not have sensors, does not have a radar or a infrared search and track (IRST) system.

INSCRIPTIONS

An inscription that may be 500-600 years old has been found in Ausa Bhuikot Fort in Maharashtra's Latur district, a researcher said on Monday. 'It has depictions of the sun, moon and shivling with swords and circles.

BJP eyes 200 Assembly, 45 LS seats in Maharashtra

Sets up tasks for elected representatives, leaders & party workers

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Maharashtra unit of the BJP has set itself a target to mop up 200 seats out of the total 288 in the state assembly and 45 out of 48 Lok Sabha seats in the state in the next round of elections. To achieve this goal, it gave a five point agenda to its elected representatives, leaders and workers in its recently concluded conclave held in Nasik.

According to the leaders who were part of the meeting, the first agenda given to them was to attract the Marathi voters, particularly in Mumbai and its metropolitan region as these voters were more inclined towards the Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena.

"Marathi voters are sympathetic towards Uddhav Thackeray. We broke the Shiv Sena by dividing it into two parts, but the lower base and the Marathi voters are still with Uddhav Thackeray. BJP workers and leaders should reach out to these voters if they want to bring BJP in power in BMC and subsequently in the state. These are mostly Hindu voters," said a senior BJP leader on the condition of anonymity.

The second agenda for the BJP leaders is to work out a plan to poach the second rung leadership of the Opposition parties. "The second rung leadership is quite street smart. If these young leaders join the BJP, we will groom them properly and will get ready-made active party workers for the next elections," he said.

The third agenda was to attract the oppressed class voters who are 'stuck' with the Congress and the NCP. "The oppressed class percentage is more than 10 per cent in Maharashtra. In most of the elections, they prefer to cast their votes to secular parties rather than the BJP. We should have an outreach program for these voters by taking the message of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's initiatives to them. This will increase the voting percentage of the BJP and the number of seats as well," said another leader.

The fourth agenda was to focus on the seats where the BJP had lost by a slender margin in the previous elections or it was runner up, while the fifth agenda was to increase the party's presence on the social media. "The fifth agenda given to us was to increase our presence on social media. Social media is an important tool to build the narrative against the Oppositions and reach out to the young voters," he added.

'Party plans to attract oppressed class voters'

The third agenda was to attract the oppressed class voters who are 'stuck' with the Congress and the NCP. "The oppressed class percentage is more than 10 per cent in Maharashtra. 'Woman liable to be prosecuted for facilitating rape'

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN a significant order, the Allahabad High Court, on Monday, said that if a woman was found facilitating the act of rape with a group of men, she may be prosecuted for the offence of 'gang rape' under Section 376D of IPC in view of the amended provisions. The court said that no doubt a woman could not commit the offence of rape herself but she could always facilitate it on others.

Elaborating the provisions of Section 375 and 376 of Indian Penal Code (IPC) relating to the offence of rape, as amended in 2013, the bench comprising Justice Shekhar Kumar Yadav rejected the plea that a woman could not be prosecuted for the alleged commission of the offence of gang rape.

With these observations, the court dismissed an application filed by one Suneeta Pandey, who had challenged a summon passed by additional district and sessions judge to face the trial under Section 376-D (gang rape), 212 (harbouring offender) of IPC in connection with the alleged rape case of a 15-year-old girl.

The High Court, at the outset noted that the argument that a woman could not be prosecuted for gang rape was not correct as per the amended provisions of Section 375 to 376E of IPC, which related to the offence of rape.

G20 working group meet in UP focuses on digital economy

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

A day after the conclusion of the three-day Global Investors Meet, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath on Monday inaugurated the three-day conclave of the G20 working group in Lucknow. The meeting will focus on digital public infrastructure, cyber crime and digital education, among other subjects.

Adityanath laid stress on digital economy as the need of the hour, calling it a potent tool to unite the world as one family in consonance with the ancient Indian philosophy of 'Vasudhaiv Kutumbakam'. The UP CM also elaborated on the use of digital technology by the state government to benefit the people. He cited the distribution of free ration to 15 crore people in the state through digital platform, and said the government saved ₹1,200 crore annually by the use of the technology.

Welcoming the 143 delegates at the meeting, Adityanath said UP has been a torchbearer of the spiritual and cultural heritage of India and is now at the forefront in utilising technology.

"The UP government is working to provide facilities to a large population by adopting state-of-the-art technology and through digitisation of governance in a transparent manner," he said, adding that 2.60 lakh farmers in the state are being given the benefit of Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi, while one crore destitute women, disabled and old people are getting pension through direct bank transfer (DBT).

"Similarly, one crore students are getting their scholarship funds through DBT. Funds for purchasing uniforms, bags, books and shoes are also being sent to the accounts of 1.91 lakh children studying in Basic Shiksha Parishad schools through DBT," the CM said. "We are also providing tablets and smartphones to two crore youth. Work is being done to take these programmes forward in the form of a campaign."

Patel U-turns continue in second term

Bhupendra Patel's government does not appear to have learned from its previous mistakes, as it keeps changing its decisions since Patel became the chief minister. The trend of taking a U-turn from the decisions already made has continued even after Patel became the CM for the second time. On February 11, the Bhupendra Patel-led government was forced to reverse its Annual Statement of Rates (ASR) or Jantri rate announcement. Previously, the government had to backtrack on the stray cattle bill, the police pay grade affidavit, the razing of encroachments in the Gujarat Housing Board, and other issues.

Action against cop for smoking at G20 event

A police constable has been removed from duty because he couldn't quit tobacco for a day. A day before the inaugural Tourism Working Group meeting of G20 delegates began on February 8, a Morbi Town police officer was removed from the police bandobast at Dhordo in Bhuj. He was found breaking rules and consuming tobacco while he was deployed on official duty, according to a police source. The administration has been dissuading people from consuming tobacco and spitting it out at public places, and increased efforts are being made in view of the G-20 events to present a neat image of the city.

'Guj BJP more peaceful, plans change in party'

There has been a sense of calm in Gujarat politics for a long time, especially since the BJP broke the Congress's record by winning 156 seats, Now, it appears that the BJP leaders are taking a break. "Before the election, we had to work hard even after the victory of our last three assembly elections. It was because the record victory of the Congress' 149 seats had not been broken yet. However, this time the record has been broken, so there is peace," a BJP leader said on condition of anonymity. Another BJP leader claims, "There will be changes in the national organisation and in the central cabinet, and after this change, there will be major changes in the Gujarat BJP."

Guv says CM not running govt as per Constitution, Mann refutes allegations

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

PUNJAB Governor Banwarilal Purohit lambasts Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on various issues, including procedure for sending teachers to Singapore for training. Purohit today wrote a letter to Mann alleging that he is running the administration as per his whims and fancies and not the Constitution.

He claimed that the CM has never replied to the queries raised by him and ignored his letters. The governor warned that if he does not reply to him within fifteen days then he will be compelled to take legal advice for further action. Replying to him, Mann said that he is answerable only to the people of the state, not to anyone appointed by the Centre.

The governor wrote a letter to Mann, which stated, "I have received complaints in respect to the selection of principals for sending them to Singapore for training. The complainants point out certain mal practices and illegalities in the selection of these principals. Allegation is that there is no transparency. I, therefore, request you to send me criteria and details of entire selection process. Please also give detail if it was widely published throughout Punjab. As per news reports since the first batch has come back, please let me have details of total expenditure incurred on travelling and boarding lodging and expenses towards training."

Mann said that all the issues raised by Governor are the issues related to jurisdiction of the state. He added that for these issues, he is accountable to the 3 crore Punjabis who have elected him with a massive mandate. He unequivocally said that the state government is not at all responsible to any person appointed by the centre government. He categorically said that this was his answer to all the questions raised by the Governor. Mann commented that rather than giving sermons to him, the Governor must focus on smooth discharge of his duties.

SC clears decks for J&K election

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

CLEARING the decks for elections in Jammu and Kashmir, the Supreme Court on Monday found nothing illegal in the Delimitation Commission redrawing poll constituencies and increasing the Assembly seats from 107 to 114, including 24 seats in Pakistan Occupied Kashmir.

A bench of Justices S K Kaul and A S Oka declared the notifications issued in 2020 by the Union Ministry of Law and Justice for constituting the Delimitation Commission for J&K valid.

Justice Oka, who authored the 54-page ruling, clarified that the judgment will have no bearing on the issue of validity of the Delimitation Act and the Article 370 petitions pending before another bench of the Supreme Court.

The bench said its findings are on the footing that the exercise of power made in 2019 under clauses (1) and (3) of Article 370 of the Constitution is valid. Appearing for Srinagar residents Haji Abdul Ghani Khan and Mohammad Ayub Mattoo, senior advocate Ravi Shankar Jandhyala had argued that the constitution of the commission was without power, jurisdiction and authority.

3-corner Meghalaya contest: Conrad says split in Oppn votes to help NPP

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Tura (Meghalaya)

AHEAD of Meghalaya elections, Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma has to use all his might to keep up the flag of his National People's Party (NPP), a legacy of his father, former Lok Sabha speaker PA Sangma. The Conrad government has faced corruption charges, and the Trinamool Congress stands in its way to the finishing line in the elections, which also has the BJP and Congress in the fray. Conrad says he is confident of a win. Excerpt from an interview:

How do you assess the upcoming contest?
I foresee a big division of Opposition votes. The Congress is down to zero MLAs. They (12 Congress MLAs) joined TMC but many (four) deserted it. People will look at NPP as a strong option to choose.
We expect to better our previous score (19). Garo Hills region (it has 24 of state's 60 seats), where you come from, virtually decides the fate of parties.

Can TMC upset NPP through the efforts of ex-CM Mukul Sangma?
The Congress and TMC have set up candidates in every seat there. A division of their vote banks will help us.
Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said NPP is BJP's "A-team'... Anybody can say anything. We are contesting on our ideology. Post elections, we look at how we can work with others. We have been with the NDA for a long time.

Your government has faced corruption charges. Parties, including the BJP, sought a CBI probe.
Why didn't you accept?
We had judicial and independent inquiries. CBI can't be doing everything. If some facts had come out indicating wrongdoings, we would have gone to CBI.

Do you see a challenge in the South Tura seat that you are contesting from?
We have done a lot of work there. We've resolved issues of water supply, road connectivity, etc. I expect to win comfortably.

Why should people re-elect NPP?
The law and order situation has improved. Insurgency is almost zero. We are achieving targets in different schemes. The MGNREGA budget jumped from ₹500 crore to ₹1,800 crore. Meghalaya is one of the best-performing states in Jal Jeevan Mission. From the worst performing state in PMGSY, it has become one of the best-performing states. Immunisation of children is rising to 95% from 50%. The state's budget doubled from ₹9,000 crore in 2018 in 2023. We have provided a stable government despite having six coalition partners.

A day before Valentine's Day, HIV+ couple decide to tie knot in Bengal

PRONAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

A day before the Valentine's Day, a couple from South 24Parganas suffering from HIV aids tied the knot to set an example of bonding between two souls fighting odds in life.

The groom and bride met each other a year ago during their routine medical check- up at a state-run hospital in Kolkata. The bride, who had tested HIV positive after her birth parents died of AIDS in Midnapore district, was lodged in a home run by an NGO.

The groom, residing in Sandeshkhali in the same district, was detected with HIV positive, though his parents were not carrier of the disease. ''I was infected with the virus in my childhood after administered diphtheria vaccine and the infected needle of the syringe was responsible for it,'' said the youth in his mid-20s.

The bride, who is now 19-year-old, had to visit Kolkata Medical College and Hospital regularly for antiretroviral therapy, the standard treatment for people infected with HIV.

''I also visit the same hospital regularly for the therapy and I met her there. Initially, we used to discuss about the plight and odds we were facing. Sharing our experiences with each other's, we got close to each other and fell in love. Since we are suffering from the same disease, we understand each other. We decided to spend the rest of our lives together,'' he said.

The woman spent his childhood and teenage life at the NGO. After completing Class-XII education, she now works in a café shop in the area. "Both of our relatives welcomed the decision to marry each other. The workers of the NGO extended their help to make our dream true,'' she said. Many people of Sonarur area came forward to help the couple. They gifted engagement ring and made arrangements for catering for the invitees.

Ayan Chakrabarty, a councillor of Kolkata Muncipal Corporation', also came forward to help the couple. "Many in our society still maintain distance from people suffering from HIV aids. Proper treatment and good behaviour can change the life of HIV patients," he said.

Wedding will send a message to people

Ayan Chakrabarty, a councillor of Kolkata Muncipal Corporation's ward 28, also came forward to help the couple. "Many in our society still maintain distance from people suffering from HIV aids. Proper treatment and good behaviour can change the life of HIV patients," he said.

3-Idiots redux: Docs guide woman to deliver baby

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

WITH the roads closed due to heavy snowfall and air lifting not possible due to inclement weather, the doctors in the snow covered area close to Line of Control (LoC) in Keran sector of Jammu and Kashmir inspired by Bollywood movie 3-Idiots helped a pregnant woman deliver baby through Whtsapp audio call.

Block Medical Officer (BMO) Kralpora Dr Mir Shafi told this newspaper that a pregnant woman of remote Kallas village of Keran complained of labour pain on Friday and was taken by her family members to Primary Health Centre (PHC) Keran, close to LoC.

The upper reaches of Valley including Keran had received heavy snowfall during the night and it was also intermittently snowing in the day. All the roads connecting PHC Keran with the nearest health facility at Kralapora, which was about 45 kilometers, were closed due to accumulation of snow on the roads. It was her second issue.

The woman had suffered complications during the birth of first child.

The BMO said after the woman in labour visited the health facility in Keran, her vital components were checked by a doctor there and her BP was found to be on the higher side.

"In such a situation, the patient needs to be shifted to a hospital, where all facilities including blood transfusion, etc are available," he said.

Dr Mir said since the woman had gone into labour, it was impossible to evacuate her to nearby hospital due to accumulation of snow on roads. "Besides, air lifting of the patient was also not possible due to inclement weather."

The BMO came up with the idea inspired by the Aamir Khan starrer Bollywood movie 3-Idiots for an alternative safe delivery method.

"It somehow clicked in my mind that we should go for her delivery process without wasting any time by using Information Technology. The health facility, where the woman was admitted, had got a VSAT. It is there for connectivity among the doctors and paramedical staff because the area has poor mobile connectivity. The doctors and paramedical staff remain in touch through the internet," Dr Mir said.

He said he called gynecologist of Sub District Hospital (SDH) Kralapora, Dr Parvez and told him that a pregnant woman has gone into labour in Gurez and the delivery process has to be conducted via Whatsapp call as this was an emergency as the patient can neither be brought to hospital on road nor airlifted. "The delivery process went on smoothly. A baby girl was successfully delivered," the BMO said.

5,000 children abused by clerics in Portugal: Inquiry

Latest revelation to add pressure on Pope Francis to tackle scandal

LISBON

CATHOLIC clergy in Portugal have abused nearly 5,000 children since 1950, an independent commission said on Monday after hearing hundreds of victims' accounts.

Thousands of reports of paedophilia within the Catholic Church have surfaced around the world and Pope Francis is under pressure to tackle the scandal.

The Portuguese inquiry, commissioned by the Church in the staunchly Catholic country, published its findings after hearing from more than 500 victims last year.

"This testimony allows us to establish a much larger network of victims, at least 4,815," commission head Pedro Strecht told a press conference in Lisbon that was attended by several senior Church officials.

Strecht, a child psychiatrist, said it would be difficult now for Portugal to ignore the existence of child sex abuse or the trauma it caused.The head of the Portuguese Episcopal Conference (CEP), Bishop Jose Ornelas, will respond to the findings later on Monday. The country's bishops will convene in March to draw conclusions from the report and "rid the Church of this scourge as much as possible", Father Manuel Barbosa, a senior CEP member, said in January. Faced with a multitude of clergy sex abuse cases that have come to light worldwide and the accusations of cover-ups, Pope Francis promised in 2019 to root out paedophilia within the Catholic Church.

Inquiries have been launched in several countries in addition to Portugal, including Australia, France, Germany, Ireland and the Netherlands.

The pontiff may meet some of the Portuguese victims when he visits Lisbon in August, the capital's auxiliary bishop, Americo Aguiar, said recently.

The time limit for bringing charges has already expired for the vast majority of offences recorded by Strecht's six-member commission but 25 cases have been transferred to the prosecution service.

One of them concerns "Alexandra", a 43-year-old woman who has requested anonymity. She alleges she was raped by a priest during confession when she was a 17-year-old novice nun.

"It's very hard to talk about these things in Portugal," a country where 80% of people say they are Catholic, said Alexandra, who is now a mother and works as a kitchen helper.

"I kept it secret for many years but it became more and more difficult to cope with it alone," she said in a telephone interview last week. AFP

SPECULATION ON AS U.S. SHOOTS DOWN FOURTH MYSTERY OBJECT

WASHINGTON

A US warplane shot down a new flying object near the Canadian border on Sunday, the latest of three mysterious devices spotted since military radar settings were cranked up in the wake of the downing of a suspected Chinese spy balloon.

Jittery Americans have been watching the skies as the mysterious incursions unfolded against a backdrop of acute tensions with China — although only the first object has so far been attributed to Beijing.

On Sunday the Pentagon said that it does not yet know what the other three objects — one shot down Friday over Alaska, one Saturday over Canada's Yukon territory, and the most recent one Sunday over Lake Huron — are.

But it said that the object downed Sunday had been tracked for nearly a day and did not resemble the alleged Chinese surveillance balloon that was destroyed off the Atlantic coast on February 4 after traversing the country.

President Joe Biden ordered a F-16 fighter to shoot down the latest object "out of abundance of caution," a senior administration official said. The object was described by the official as an octagonal structure with strings hanging off it. Drifting at about 20,000 feet over Michigan, it could have posed a hazard to civil aviation, the official said. US Northern Command Commander General Glen VanHerck told reporters that after aircraft were sent up to inspect the newest object, they concluded that there was no indication of any threat, the same with the previous objects.

"What we are seeing is very, very small objects that produce a very, very low radar cross section," he said.

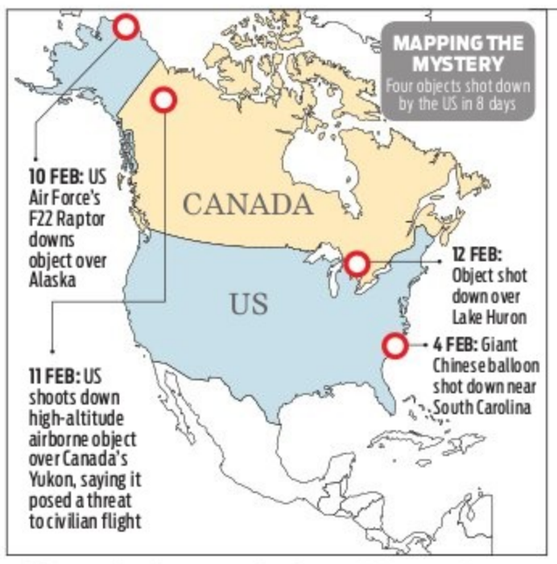
He declined to describe the shape or size of the objects, but said they were traveling very slowly, around the speed of the wind.Speculation as to what the objects may be has ignited in recent days.

"I will let the intel community and the counterintelligence community figure that out," VanHerck told reporters when asked if it was possible the objects are aliens or extraterrestrials. "I haven't ruled out anything at this point,"he added.

The objects shot down since Friday were detected after US air defense adjusted radar settings to scan for smaller and slower-moving objects, said Assistant Secretary of Defense Melissa Dalton.

Currently operations are underway to recover all four objects, said Dalton.

Canadian officials described the shot down over Canada's far northwest on Saturday as small and cylindrical, roughly the size of a Volkswagen car. AFP



MAPPING THE MYSTERY

10 FEB: US Air Force's F22 Raptor downs object over Alaska
11 FEB: US shoots down high-altitude airborne object over Canada's Yukon, saying it posed a threat to civilian flight
12 FEB: Object shot down over Lake Huron
4 FEB: Giant Chinese balloon shot down near South Carolina

We have been more closely scrutinising our airspace at these altitudes, which may partly explain the increase

Melissa Dalton, assistant secretary for homeland defence

WERE THEY RESEARCH CRAFTS?

If not China, who could be behind the latest objects spotted over the US and Canada? Public and private research bodies launch their own research craft into the atmosphere at those altitudes, a top US official said

ALIENS? CAN'T RULE OUT, OFFICIALS SAY

After decades of investigating some strange sightings by US military pilots that were categorised as UFO, officials were not ready to completely dismiss the idea that aliens or extraterrestrials were behind the three mysterious objects

HEIGHTENED ALERT, RADAR TUNING IMPROVE DETECTION

The US recently adjusted its radar so it could track slower objects. So it has been able to get a better categorisation of radar tracks, and that's possibly why these objects, previously overlooked, are being detected now, said VanHerck, head of US Northern Command

PAK BIZ LEADERS WORRY AS IMPORTED RAW MATERIALS REMAIN HELD UP AT PORT

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN business chiefs are clamouring for cash-strapped government to allow manufacturing materials stuck at the key port of Karachi into the country, warning that a failure to lift a ban on imports will leave millions jobless.

Faced with critically low US-dollar reserves, the government has banned all but essential food and medicine imports until a lifeline bailout is agreed with the International Monetary Fund (IMF). Industries such as steel, textiles and pharmaceuticals are barely functioning, forcing thousands of factories to close and deepening unemployment.

The steel industry has warned of severe supply-chain issues caused by a shortage of scrap metal, which is melted down and turned into steel bars. In the past few weeks, the bars have reached record prices. "We directly feed materials to the construction industry which is linked to some 45 downstream industries," said Wajid Bukhari, head of Pakistan's Large Scale Steel Producers Association.

"This whole cycle is going to be jammed." Smaller factories have already shut after exhausting stocks, while some larger plants are just days from closing, he said.

With an import bill of around $150 million a month, the steel industry says its operations directly and indirectly affect several million jobs.

"This situation triggers fears the construction industry will close down, plunging thousands into unemployment," the Constructors Association of Pakistan said, echoing calls for steel and machinery to be exempted from the import ban.

Adani tries to calm investors' nerves

Hindenburg allegations wipe out Group's share prices by up to 69% in 13 trading sessions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ADANI GROUP is trying to calm investors' sentiment amid increased scrutiny by the stock exchanges, the capital market regulator and the Supreme Court over allegations levied by the US-based short-seller Hindenburg Research.

The allegations have wiped out the Group's share prices by up to 69% in the last 13 trading sessions and there is an increased concern over commercial banks' exposure to the conglomerate and the latter's ability to fund its ambitious expansion plans and repay debts.

The Group in a statement on Monday said it would review the capital market strategy of its entities once things stabilise and that it is confident of delivering superior returns to investors despite the ongoing slump. "Balance sheet of each of our independent portfolio companies is healthy. We have industry-leading development capabilities, strong corporate governance, secure assets, strong cashflows, and our business plan is fully funded."

"Once the current market stabilises, each entity will review its own capital market strategy, be rest assured, we are confident in the continued ability of our portfolio to deliver superior returns to shareholders," said Adani spokesperson.

The Gautam Adani-led Group has lost about half of its market capitalisation after Hindenburg accused it of pulling the "largest con in corporate history" by engaging in "brazen stock manipulation and accounting fraud" over the course of two decades. Adanis have called the report "maliciously mischievous and unresearched" The report, published on January 24, triggered a series of events. Global banks such as Credit Suisse, Citigroup, and Standard Chartered have stopped accepting Adani Group's bonds as collateral while rating agency Moody's downgraded the outlook of four Group companies.

PSU gen insurers hold ₹348 cr in Adani cos

New Delhi: State-run general insurance companies such as New India, United India, National Insurance, Oriental Insurance and General Insurance Corporation Re have ₹348 crore exposure in Adani Group companies, Finance Ministry told Parliament in a reply on Monday. This represents 0.14% of their total assets under management (AUM), the ministry added. Financial institutions like Exim Bank, SIDBI, NHB, National Bank for Financing Infrastructure and Development (NBFID) and NABARD cann't reveal information under their acts, the ministry added. The government had previously said Life Insurance Corporation had a near ₹36,000 crore exposure in Adani Group companies. ENS

SEBI agrees to set up panel for investors' safety

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

SEBI on Monday told the Supreme Court that although it did not have any objections to accede to its suggestions for constitution of an expert committee to examine the changes required in the regulatory framework but urged court to give it the liberty for suggesting its remit.

Contending that the remit could have "some adverse impact on the flow of money" and also affect internationally, the the market regulator said, "Existing structure are fully equipped not only regime wise but also otherwise to take care of the situation. We would have no objection, for constituting a committee but the only difficulty will be remit of the committee. Remit of the committee is important since it has an effect internationally and if we can suggest the remit of committee in sealed cover may have some adverse impact on the flow of money."

"We can suggest the remit of the committee with possible suggestions on the name of the committee in sealed cover as that may not be favourable in open court. In all propriety point of view, we will file but the remit would be very very relevant. We would not like to undermine the competence of the agencies."

Acceding to SGs request, a bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala posted the pleas which had sought for court monitored probe into the Adani Hindenburg issue for Friday.

Apart from agreeing for constitution of a committee, SEBI also told the court that Indian markets have seen far higher turbulent times in the past, especially during the COVID pandemic but it did not ban "short selling." SEBI also told court that it is enquiring into the allegations made in the Hindenburg report as well as the market activity immediately preceding & post publication of the report. "As the matter is in early stages, it may not be appropriate to list details about the ongoing proceedings," SEBI further said.

INSOLVENCY

NCLT admits Zee Learn for resolution on Yes Bank plea

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Mumbai

THE National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) has directed to initiate insolvency proceedings against Zee Learn, following a petition filed by private sector lender Yes Bank.

Yes Bank had claimed a default of ₹468.99 crore by the Essel Group company. Out of the default amount of ₹468.99 crore, principal amount was ₹410.67 crore and ₹58.32 crore was interest. Date of default was August 2, 2021. Yes Bank moved NCLT last year and Zee Learn received notice over the petition on April 25.

A Mumbai NCLT bench said the application made by financial creditor Yes Bank is complete in all respects as required by law. "It clearly shows corporate debtor (Zee Learn) is in default of a debt due and payable, and the default is in excess of minimum amount stipulated under section 4(1) of IBC," said NCLT. Therefore, the debt and default stand established and there is no reason to deny the admission of the petition. "In view of this, this adjudicating authority (NCLT) admits this petition and orders initiation of CIRP (Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process) against the Corporate Debtor," it said.

Windfall tax on oil cos introduced on July 1

First imposed the windfall tax on oil companies on July 1, 2022, joining a number of countries that tax super normal profits of energy companies. It levied export duties of ₹6 per litre each on petrol and ATF, and ₹13 a litre on diesel. Also, ₹23,250 per tonne on domestic crude production. Windfall tax was reviewed every fortnight and rates are moderated based on international oil prices

Govt expects to mop up ₹25,000 crore from windfall gain tax this fiscal year

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government is expecting to mop up ₹25,000 crore from windfall gain tax, or Special Additional Excise Duty (SAED) from the production of crude oil and the export of diesel, petrol, and aviation turbine fuel (ATF) in this fiscal, minister of state Rameshwar Teli told parliament.

"As per the Department of Revenue, Ministry of Finance, the data for SAED on production of crude oil is not maintained separately. The collection of SAED, for the current financial year, is estimated at the level of ₹25,000 crore from production of crude oil, export of petrol, diesel and ATF," said the minister in a written reply to Rajya Sabha.

The ministry first imposed the windfall tax on oil companies on July 1, 2022, joining a number of countries that tax super normal profits of energy companies. It levied export duties of ₹6 per litre each on petrol and ATF, and ₹13 a litre on diesel. Also, ₹23,250 per tonne on domestic crude production. The windfall tax was reviewed every fortnight and rates are moderated based on international oil prices.

On the ethanol blending, Teli said oil marketing companies (OMCs) have procured 80.09 crore litres of ethanol up to January 30, 2023, for blending in petrol during the Ethanol Supply Year (ESY) 2022-23 and nearly 6 crore litres of bio-diesel for blending with diesel during the financial year 2022-23. Further, 57 Bio-CNG projects including 40 under the sustainable alternative towards affordable transportation (SATAT) initiative have been commissioned till December 31, 2022.

"The blending of ethanol in petrol during the (ethanol supply year) ESY2021-22 has resulted in a saving of nearly 3073 TMT of petrol and the blending of bio-diesel in diesel during FY23 has resulted in a saving of nearly 47 TMT of diesel.

Supreme Court directs SpiceJet to pay ₹270 cr to Maran

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

IN the on-going tussle between the current and former promoters of budget airline SpiceJet, the Supreme Court on Monday said the bank guarantee of ₹270 crore of the airline must be encashed immediately and the money be paid to media baron Kalanithi Maran and his Kal Airways towards dues from the arbitral award of ₹578 crore.

A bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and justices P S Narasimha and J B Pardiwala also directed the Gurugram based airline to pay within three months ₹75 crore to Maran and Kal Airways towards the interest component on the arbitral award.

SpiceJet in a statement said the remaining amount of ₹270 crore is reserved with the company in cash against which a bank guarantee has been given. This amount of ₹270 crore will be comfortably discharged as per the direction of the court, it added. "Further, the additional amount of ₹75 crore will be paid within the period of three months as per the directions of the SC," the airline said. The matter has its root to a dispute arising out of the non-issuance of warrants in favour of Maran after the transfer of ownership to Ajay Singh, the controlling shareholder of SpiceJet. Amid a financial crisis, Maran and Kal Airways had transferred their entire 35.04 crore shares in SpiceJet, 58.46% stake, to its co-founder Singh in February 2015 for just ₹2.

I-T dept raises tax demand of ₹15,570 cr in black money cases

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Income Tax Department has completed assessments under the black money (undisclosed foreign income and assets) and imposition of tax act, 2015, in 394 cases, raising tax demand of over ₹15,570 crore, the Ministry of Finance said on Monday in a written reply to the Lok Sabha.

"As of 30.11.2022, assessments under BMA, 2015, have been completed in 394 cases, raising tax demand of over ₹15,570 crore. Further, 125 prosecution complaints have been filed under the provisions of BMA, 2015. The state/UT-wise details are not maintained separately," the ministry said.

During investigation in 13 PMLA (prevention of money laundering act) cases in relation to predicate offences involving violations related to BMA, 2015, proceeds of crime amounting to ₹42.57 crore have been attached/seized and three prosecution complaints have been filed. Further, assets amounting to ₹93.07 crore have been seized under section 37A of foreign exchange and management act (FEMA) in five cases, it added.

Besides this, I-T Department collected ₹2,476 crore by way of tax and penalty under the BMA, 2015, after 648 disclosures involving foreign assets worth ₹4,164 crore were made during a one-time three-month long compliance window, the ministry said in its reply.

"The government has entered into Double Taxation Avoidance Agreements /Tax Information Exchange Agreements /Multilateral Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters/SAARC Multilateral Agreement ("tax treaties") with other countries which provide for exchange of information, which is foreseeably relevant for administration and enforcement of domestic laws concerning taxes. India has been proactively engaging with foreign governments, for exchange of information under these tax treaties," it said. The Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU-India) is a member of the Egmont Group, an international organisation for exchange of information and co-operation amongst FIUs. The Group comprises 167 members as of date.

Renault-Nissan to launch 6 vehicles, including 2 EVs

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

RENAULT-NISSAN alliance has committed to invest $600 million (₹5,300 crore) in India to expand their product lineup, add about 2,000 new jobs and boost exports from their manufacturing plant in Chennai.

The French-Japanese alliance will collaborate on launching six new production vehicles, starting in 2025, for domestic and international customers, including two new fully electric vehicles (EVs).

"India was the first Alliance plant and it will be at the centre of this new chapter of the alliance, with new vehicles, new R&D activities and new export markets taking our joint operations to the next level," said Guillaume Cartier, Chairperson for Nissan's Africa, Middle East, India, Europe and Oceania region. The two brands have been in India for a while but haven't seen success to the level of Korean automakers such as Hyundai or Kia. Currently, they are known for selling sub-compact SUVs and their combined market share in local market was just about 4% in 2022.

Like other carmakers who are betting big on SUVs to establish a strong base in India, the alliance will follow a similar strategy. The six new models (comprise of three for each company) include four new C-segment SUVs. Two new A-segment electric vehicles will be the first EVs for both Renault and Nissan in India.

Auto sector experts have always cited India as a difficult market for foreign carmakers as the highly cost-sensitive market is dominated by very few players. India has seen high-profile exits such as General Motors and Ford in the last few years. Nissan pulled the plug on the Datsun brand in India last year. The new vehicles for the alliance will be built on common alliance platforms but would retain the distinctive styling of the respective brands. The alliance is hopeful their renewed action would lead to a big surge in exports, boosting its plant utilisation to 80%.

Nykaa net profit falls 71% to ₹8.5 crore in Q3, revenue from ops up 33% to ₹1,463 cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Mumbai

FSN E-Commerce, the parent company of Nykaa, on Monday announced 71% decline in net profit to ₹8.5 crore for the quarter ending December 2022 as against ₹29 crore in the same quarter in the previous year.

Revenue from operations came in at ₹1,463 crore, up 33% from ₹1,098 crore in the December 2021 quarter, Nykaa said in an exchange filing. Revenue stood at ₹1,231 crore for the September 2022 quarter.

Expenses for the quarter increased 36% YoY to ₹1,455 crore in Q3FY23 as compared to ₹1,067 crore reported in the corresponding quarter a year ago.

Company's EBITDA (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation) grew 13% to ₹78 crore for the December quarter while EBITDA margin came in at 5.3% for the October-December period, as against 6.3% for the year-ago period.

The consolidated gross merchandise value (GMV) during the quarter grew 37% YoY to ₹2,796 crore.

"Our EBITDA delivery has been strong, with scale efficiencies in fulfilment and marketing expense. There's been a structural improvement in fulfilment expense as we move to regional warehouses. Our marketing efforts are focussed on order-conversion ratio, rather than chasing visits alone, which is reflective of the highest ever conversions of 3.8% in BPC, and 1.2% for Fashion in Q3FY23," said Falguni Nayar, Executive Chairperson, MD, and CEO Nykaa.

NSE CASE

SC refuses to cancel bail granted to ex-NSE chief

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday affirmed the statutory bail that was granted to former NSE head Chitra Ramakrishna in Gothenburg co-location scam case that was being probed by the CBI.

While dismissing the plea, a bench of Justice Ajay Rastogi and Bela Trivedi said that HCs order would only be construed with regards to the grant of default bail and would not affect the merits of the case. The court also remarked that the CBI cannot proceed with the investigation by truncating the offences. "After hearing the counsel, we find no reasons to interfere the bail order, we clarify that the observations made are only for grant of default bail and shall not affect the merits of the trial," court said in its order. Court's order came in a plea which was filed by CBI challenging the default bail that was granted to Ramakrishna and Anand Subramanian by the Delhi HC in September last year.

Banks starts raising lending rates after RBI's policy rate hike

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

DAYS after the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) hiked the repo rate, the banks have begun raising their lending rates. Public sector lenders Punjab National Bank (PNB), Bank of Baroda, Central Bank of India and Canara Bank have raised their lending rates by up to 25 basis points.

"In view of the recent changes in Repo rate, Bank has revised the interest rates with effect from 10 February," said Central Bank of India in a statement.

Its new home loan rates have increased to 8.60% - 9.35% which was earlier at 8.35% - 9.10%. PNB has increased its Repo Linked Lending Rate (RLLR) to 9% from 8.75%.

Hike in lending rates by banks comes after the RBI, last week, raised repo rate by 25 bps points in its fight against inflation. An increase in banks' MCLR and external benchmark-based lending rate is on expected lines as the hike in repo rate has raised the cost of funds for the lenders.

MCLR, which substituted the base rate in 2016, is the minimum rate below which a bank cannot lend. MCLR follows an internal benchmark where banks set interest rates based on their cost of mobilising funds for lending while RLLR is an external benchmark directly linked to RBI's repo rate. From October 1, 2019, all banks have migrated to an interest rate linked to an external benchmark such as RBI's repo rate or treasury bill yield.

Any revision in MCLR or external benchmark-based lending rate affects the interest on retail and corporate loans. The share of external benchmark-based lending rate-linked loans in total outstanding floating rate rupee loans of commercial banks stood at 47.6% at end-September 2022, while the share of MCLR-linked loans was 46.5%, according to Care Ratings.

Bank of Baroda has raised its MCLR by 5% across all tenures. The overnight MCLR rate has been increased to 7.90% from 7.85% earlier while one-month MCLR has been raised to 8.20% from 8.15%. One-year MCLR has been raised to 8.55% from 8.50%. The new rates have become effective from February 12.

Canara Bank has increased its MCLR by 5 to 15 bps but the lender has reduced its RLLR by 15 bps to 9.25% with effect from 12 February.

Czech Republic midfielder Jankto comes out as gay

Czech Republic midfielder Jakub Jankto posted a video on social media on Monday saying he is gay, making him one of the most high-profile male soccer players to come out. Jankto posted a video on Twitter saying: "I'm homosexual. And I no longer want to hide myself."The 27-year-old Jankto is playing for Sparta Prague this season on loan from Spanish club Getafe.

Fans furious after Test moved 'without apology'

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

THE Dalai Lama, the spiritual leader of the Tibetan people, lives in Dharamsala. Among his many principles, he values compassion very highly. Unfortunately, that was missing in the Board of Control for Cricket in India's (BCCI) statement on Monday morning. The cricket body sent out a 76-word statement to inform the world that they had officially moved the third Test from Dharamsala to Indore. It had a sponsor plug but it didn't even have an acknowledgement of the inconvenience this move will cause the fans (unlike most other Test venues in India, Dharamsala's geographic location in the foothills of the Himalayas makes it a very attractive tourist destination).

Scores of Indians, both from within and outside the country, had already booked flight tickets and sorted out their accommodation as soon as the itinerary dropped on December 8. Some of them have lost five figure sums and are staring at an uncertain immediate future apropos recovering at least some of those costs from hotel chains or Airbnbs.

Mahesh Sethuraman, based out of Singapore, had finalised his travel plans a few days after the original itinerary had dropped. We (his friends and him) finalized the trip immediately after the itinerary was published," he told this daily. "I booked leaves as soon as the itinerary was announced. In fact, I had to force my office to reschedule some of our quarterly business review meetings to accommodate my cricket trip."

One thing people who finalised their plans months in advance can't understand is why the board didnt take the condition of the outfield into cognisance when they announced the venues in December. Work was going on then and the winter was only going to get worse so chances of getting it prepared in time was always going to be a question mark. Bengaluru-based Navin Madhavan, part of a big travelling group, raised this point. "The BCCI statement was definitely a joke and an insult to any Indian cricket fan," he told this daily. "Outfield conditions and pitch readiness aren't a mystery that is hidden from the board till two weeks before the Test. The statement doesn't even contain an apology to fans because that likely indicates that this isn't a community that they care the least bit for in their decisions."

Mahesh echoed the same sentiments. "I didn't expect anything better from the BCCI. I am more disappointed with the utter lack of concern when they planned the itinerary. First of all they announce the itinerary so late which makes it difficult to plan. They have found a new bottom to sink from the existing pathetic standards of how they treat their fans." While Navin jokes about a potential class action suit because 'the travelling party included lawyers', he has lost about ₹12-15,000. Others in the group have lost more. "I have personally lost around ₹7000 on travel, likely another ₹5-7000 on stay that we are still negotiating."

The experience means he will reconsider future cricket-based trips within India.

Third Test: Indian team management favoured Indore move over Rajkot

FIROZ MIRZA @Nagpur

THE third Test of the ongoing Border-Gavaskar Trophy has been shifted from Dharamsala to Indore. "The third Test of the Mastercard Australia tour of India for the Border-Gavaskar Trophy, originally scheduled to take place at the HPCA Stadium, Dharamsala from 1st to 5th March has now been moved to Holkar Stadium, Indore," read a statement issued by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) on Monday.

"Owing to harsh winter conditions in the region, the outfield lacks sufficient grass density and will need some time to develop fully," added the BCCI's statement.

An inspection team visited the Dharamsala venue on Sunday and handed its report to the Indian cricket board following which the decision to change the venue was taken.

India lead the series 1-0 after routing visitors Australia by an innings and 123 runs inside three days in the first match held in Nagpur. The next match is scheduled to begin in Delhi on February 17.

At least five venues were under consideration once concerns were raised over the condition of the outfield at the Dharamsala ground. The BCCI then narrowed down the choice to Indore and Rajkot.

The former was eventually handed the opportunity as it is believed that the Indian team management preferred it over Rajkot. "Opinion of the Indian team management was sought before arriving at the conclusion. They favoured Indore," said a source in the know of the things. The Saurashtra Cricket Association Stadium in Rajkot has hosted two Tests so far with the home team drawing one (vs England in November 2016) and winning the other (vs West Indies in Oct 2018). Indore's Holkar Cricket Stadium has also hosted two Tests so far with the hosts winning both (vs New Zealand in October 2016 and vs Bangladesh in November 2019).

"Indore has proved to be a very good venue as far as spectators' response is concerned. Although the capacity is small (27,000), fans always throng the stadium to watch the contest in all formats. We have always proved to be a good host. In the end our credentials have won us the hosting right," Abhilash Khandekar, president of the Madhya Pradesh Cricket Association, told this daily.

RICH EXPERIENCE

WPL auction in Mumbai, celebration in South Africa for players

GOMESH S
Express @ Women's T20 World Cup
PAARL (SA)

IT was five days before the World Cup. The captains of all ten teams were assembled together in one place for a media interaction. Even with the World Cup coming into view, the biggest talking point of the interaction was the Women's Premier League player auction. Such was the impact it had captains acknowledged that the glass ceiling was about to break. Some had mixed feelings about the fact that it was happening in the middle of the World Cup.

As the World Cup started, they were trying to keep their minds away from it, but the anticipation was palpable. For WPL is something the cricketing world has waited for a long time. It was finally here and everyone wanted to be a part of it. Australian all-rounder Ashleigh Gardner summed it the feeling after the game against New Zealand. "I've tried to not think about it but I'd be lying if I haven't. I actually dreamt about it the other night, which is quite sad but quite funny but that's how much I've been thinking about it," she said.

On Monday, as the madness unfolded, one could understand why Gardner felt so. It was, truly, something to watch as the teams fought to sign cricketers. For generations, they had been receiving second-hand treatment from boards, media and fans. It was the players of the past who carried the women's game to where it is now. In fact, some of them were on the auction table with the teams to put together a strong squad.

The auction, as was expected, was all about Indian internationals and overseas all-rounders. While several teams broke the bank for the top names — Smriti Mandhana being the costliest player (₹3.4 crore for Royal Challengers Bangalore) — some of them waited for their turn. They knew who they wanted. Some were also conscious of the need to keep their powder dry to go big in the latter sets. Delhi Capitals was one such team. Coincidently, it was Gardner, along with England all-rounder Nat Sciver-Brunt, who went for the second highest price (₹3.2 crore).

As a few teams spent a lot in the first couple of sets, they had to save some for Indian players based on the order of the auction, as a result of which players like Heather Knight and Hayley Matthews,

Megan Schutt, etc. went unsold early on. However, they were picked in the accelerated round later.

Truth be told, none of this comes as a surprise for those who have been tracking the men's IPL auctions. But, for women cricketers, this was new. And they were in the middle of the World Cup. Different teams chose to handle it differently. While England left it to individuals whether or not to keep track of the auction (there was a process in place to tell the team that their value as cricketers wasn't determined by whether or not they were picked at the auction), Indian players were in a room watching it all together, cheering for one another.

That said, the bottom line of what happened on Monday in Mumbai was more about the domestic cricketers than the top names in the auction. For them, it is going to be life-changing, to say the least. From earning ₹20,000 per match day depending on how many get to play — not as much as the men — those who were signed have earned several lakhs of rupees in a day. "It is massive," says Ramana Rao, Anjali Sarvani's father. "In our family, speaking about money in thousands itself is a big sum for us. This is a huge thing," he said as the pacer from Adoni went to UP Warriorz for ₹55 lakhs.

The women's game is entering a new horizon. In the larger scheme of things, Heather called it as 'exciting'.

B'desh paddy fields to SA pitch: Teen's rising tale

GOMESH S @Paarl

MARUFA Akter was elated and so are her teammates. One could hear their roar far from the middle of the ground on Sunday night. In two balls, she had created a sudden buzz around the Newlands Stadium, Cape Town, with a considerable amount of Bangladesh supporters in the crowd cheering on. She had caught and bowled Vishmi Gunaratne before cleaning up Anushka Sanjeewani with a sharp inswinger. And not long before, she had set up Sri Lankan skipper Chamari Athapaththu by angling it away twice before cramping her for room to get her caught. The end result, Sri Lanka were 25/3, chasing 127.

From the moment she stepped foot in South Africa for the U-19 World Cup, Marufa has been nothing short of sensational. The teenage pacer had taken eight wickets in five matches on surfaces that had very little assistance for the fast bowlers then. And now, in her first game of the senior WC, the 18-year-old is stealing the limelight against some of the biggest names in the world. Two years ago, when she was working with her father on the leased paddy field, little did she think she would have played in two global events come 2023. Hailing from the small village of Dhelapir in the Nilphamari district (bordering North Bengal), Marufa grew up in a family of six that struggled to make ends meet. When she wanted to become a cricketer at a very young age, there was some stern opposition from her parents.

Given the financial duress they were under, they wanted her to focus on helping them with the farming and cattle work. She did all that while managing to play several sports with some significant support from her brother. It all changed when Bangladesh Krira Shikkha Protishtan (BKSP) spotted her in 2018 during a talent hunt camp. But she couldn't get in because of the financial burden. Two years later, she eventually did with some help from the BCB. And that is where she met Fatema Jahara, who played a massive role in her growth. She rose through the ranks rapidly, but as the pandemic hit, she was back on the paddy field, helping her father during the second wave.

But once the sport resumed, she hasn't look back. From making her Bangladesh debut to stepping up to the big occasion, she has done it all in the last year. While Nilakshi de Silva and Harshitha Madavi ensured that the Lankans did not lose any further wickets and got home, Marufa ensured that her name will be remembered for a long time with that fiery new ball spell.

"I actually worked very hard during those days. I got into BKSP and I would like to thank coach Fatema and Peelu sir. From where I come from, they gave me the opportunity and helped me play for the national team," Marufa said after the match. Do her parents still feel she should not play cricket? Definitely not. "When I started doing well, my family understood and started supporting me very much," she said.

Brief scores: Bangladesh 126/8 in 20 ovs (Sobhana 29, Nigar 28; Oshadi 3/23) lost to SL 129/3 in 18.2 ovs (Harshitha 69 n.o; Maruka 3/23).

AUSSIES' NEXT TARGET

Seeking sustained impact

Marufa Akter made an early dent, but other players could not sustain it against Sri Lanka and that cost them the game. Against a team like Australia, they would want to maintain the intensity throughout the innings, both with bat and ball.

Khatun vs Lanning rematch

Salma Khatun dismissed Meg Lanning for an 8-ball duck with a beauty of a delivery during the 2022 ODI World Cup in New Zealand. Can she do it again to a rejuvenated Lanning, who seems to be playing with lot of confidence?

ALICE STARS FOR ENGLAND

Alice Capsey hit a half-century (51 off 22 balls) to help England Women beat Ireland Women by four wickets on Monday. Ireland Women won the toss and elected to bat. Gaby Lewis was the top-scorer with 36 runs but the second-best effort was 17. Brief Scores: Ireland 105 in 18.2 ovs (Gaby 36; Sophie 3/13; Charlie 2/26) lost to England 107/6 in 14.2 ovs (Alice 51; Cara 3/15).

If it was up to me, I would ban Russians and Belarusians: Orlov

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

ON the right hand of Court 1 at the SDAT Tennis Stadium, Ukraine's Vladyslav Orlov was serving. He was facing Alibek Kachmazov, Russian by birth but one of several players without a national identity on the ATP Tour. In Chennai's sapping conditions — the mercury may have said only 31 degrees Celsius but the humidity made it very tough for the players who frequently bought themselves some time — Kachmazov won a tight straight sets match after two hours and 13 minutes.

After 133 minutes, they didn't shake hands. There wasn't even a tacit acknowledgement of the person on the opposite side. In fact, Orlov said it's unfair Russian and Belarusian tennis players are still part of the Tour. For people unaffected by the invasion, that may sound extreme but from Orlov's point of view, it is simple. "If it was up to me, I would ban them because it's not normal, no?" he questioned. "I don't have a home now. Why?"

The 27-year-old, who lost his home in Kharkiv to a bombing by Russian forces last March, even alleged that: "I'm playing against a guy who's actually sponsored by some of the companies who are supporting the war. I don't know. That's not fair. I cannot influence this. My job is to go and play. That is just my opinion. I think Russian and Belarusian players should be banned until their country stops invading other countries. My university, school, city... it's all been destroyed."

When Orlov, who's coached by his mother (a former youth USSR champion in table tennis Olena Ludina) in Chennai, explains the current conditions in his home, it's hard not to feel sympathetic. "It's a disaster actually (conditions back home)," he said. "The Russians have been bombing our cities. Sometimes, people don't have electricity for up to 16 hours a day and it's pretty cold in Ukraine right now. Minus 15 to 20. So, it's pretty cold, dark and very dangerous. It's a question of survival."

That survival Orlov refers to began in the last week of February. "The one year anniversary is coming up soon," he said at one point of time in the conversation. It's obvious that the invasion affected him at a mental level. For the first few months, 'he didn't eat, sleep or practice,' Ludina said. Ludina, who has been in and out of Ukraine in the last year, sensed she had to do something. So, she decided to travel to a few tournaments, to be physically present with his son. "When I first went with him to a tournament in Croatia, he won (an M25 ITF World Tour event in Osijek). Before that, he lost, lost, lost." Unsurprisingly, it has been tough for Ludina too. She couldn't sleep on Sunday night as she remembered the sounds of missiles, rockets and bombs raining down.

Orlov, who acted as translator, nods. In this grim time, tennis has helped. "This is an escape for me." That was visible when the Ukraine team gathered for a 'home' Davis Cup tie in Leszno, Poland. "It was good to see my teammates in the Davis Cup," he said. "We found the right spirit, we won and I won the first match. It was a very good moment during these tough times." They also raised some money and donated the same to the Ukraine army.

Even otherwise, the tennis community has been closely linked to Ukraine's efforts in repelling Russia.

Back with a bang: Bayern face PSG test in CL

AGENCIES

BAYERN Munich travel to Paris Saint-Germain in the Champions League last 16 on Tuesday knowing defeat in the tie will represent a failed season regardless of domestic triumphs. After Saturday's home defeat of Bochum, Bayern manager Julian Nagelsmann cut a frustrated figure and looked anything but a coach who had just masterminded another week atop the Bundesliga table with a comfortable 3-0 home win.

"There was too little movement" the 35-year-old said, promising "if we play like that on Tuesday, we won't go any further (in the Champions League)." Nagelsmann even threw a little warning to his starting XI on Saturday, saying his team "only got better after the 60th minute (when) the substitutions brought fresh momentum."

"That's when we earned the result, not before. We have to improve before Tuesday."

The reality of the super-club era is that domestic success will matter little for Nagelsmann — just like his PSG counterpart Christophe Galtier.

Other managers have been shown the door at Bayern for less. Niko Kovac was fired the year after winning the league-cup double with the side still in Champions League contention — Bayern eventually lifted the trophy later that season under Hansi Flick. Even big-name European specialist Carlo Ancelotti was sacked by Bayern after the club lost 3-0 away at PSG in 2017 — and that was in the group stages. Despite romping to their 10th-straight title in 2021-22 Bayern's season was viewed internally as a failure due to the shock Champions League quarterfinal elimination. Nagelsmann, then in his first season at Bayern, may have escaped most of the blame, but the situation will be different should the side be eliminated at the round of 16 stage this time, regardless of the quality of the opposition.

Saudis take a big leap, will send 1st woman to space

Astronauts will join the crew of AX-2 space mission and the flight will launch from USA

SPACE

RIYADH: Saudi Arabia will send its first ever woman astronaut on a space mission later this year, state media has reported, in the latest move to revamp the kingdom's ultra-conservative image.

Rayyana Barnawi will join fellow Saudi male astronaut Ali Al-Qarni on a mission to the International Space Station (ISS) "during the second quarter of 2023", the official Saudi Press Agency said on Sunday.

The astronauts "will join the crew of the AX-2 space mission" and the space flight will "launch from the USA", the agency said.

Barnawi is a 33-year-old research specialist who has nine years of experience in cancer stem cell research.

She received her bachelor's degree in Biomedical Sciences from Otago University, New Zealand and has a master's degree in Biomedical Sciences from Alfaisal University. The oil-rich country will be following in the footsteps of the neighbouring United Arab Emirates which in 2019 became the first Arab country to send one of its citizens into space.

At the time, astronaut Hazzaa al-Mansoori spent eight days on the ISS. Another fellow Emirati, Sultan al-Neyadi, will also make a voyage later this month. Nicknamed the "Sultan of Space", 41-year-old Neyadi will become the first Arab astronaut to spend six months in space when he blasts off for the ISS aboard a SpaceX Falcon 9 rocket. Gulf monarchies have been seeking to diversify their energy-reliant economies through a plethora of projects.

Saudi de facto leader Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman has also been trying to shake off the kingdom's austere image through a push for reforms. Since his rise to power in 2017, women have been allowed to drive and to travel abroad without a male guardian, and their proportion in the workforce has more than doubled since 2016, from 17% to 37%.

Saudi Arabia's foray into space is not the first. In 1985, Saudi royal Prince Sultan bin Salman bin Abdulaziz, an airforce pilot, took part in a space mission, becoming the first Arab Muslim to travel into space.

Vision 2030

In 2018, Saudi Arabia set up a space programme and last year launched another to send astronauts into space, all part of Prince Salman's Vision 2030 agenda for economic diversification

Google to expand measures to curb misinformation

TECH

WASHINGTON: After seeing promising results in Eastern Europe, Google will initiate a new campaign in Germany that aims to make people more resilient to corrosive effects of online misinformation.

The tech giant plans to release a series of short videos highlighting the techniques common to many misleading claims. The videos will appear as advertisements on platforms like Facebook, YouTube or TikTok in Germany. A similar campaign in India is also in the works.

It's an approach called prebunking, which involves teaching people how to spot false claims before they encounter them. The strategy is gaining support among researchers and tech companies.

"There's a real appetite for solutions," said Beth Goldberg, head of research and development at Jigsaw, an incubator division of Google that studies emerging social challenges. "Using ads as a vehicle to counter a disinformation technique is pretty novel. And we're excited about the results."

While belief in falsehoods and conspiracy theories isn't new, the speed and reach of the internet has given them a heightened power. When catalysed by algorithms, misleading claims can discourage people from getting vaccines, spread authoritarian propaganda, foment distrust in democratic institutions and spur violence.

It's a challenge with few easy solutions. Journalistic fact checks are effective, but they're labour intensive, aren't read by everyone, and won't convince those already distrustful of traditional journalism. Content moderation by tech companies is another response, but it only drives misinformation elsewhere, while prompting cries of censorship and bias.

Prebunking videos, by contrast, are relatively cheap and easy to produce and can be seen by millions when placed on popular platforms.

France's lynx at high risk of extinction

The elusive Eurasian lynx is at risk of vanishing completely from France, according to a study Monday that called for urgent measures to boost the population of isolated wild cats

150 ADULT LYNX HIDDEN

There are at most 150 adult lynx hidden in the mountains of northeastern France, cut off from healthier wild cat populations in Germany and Switzerland, according to the scientists behind the genetic study published in the journal Frontiers in Conservation Science

EXTINCT IN LESS THAN 30 YEARS

"Given the rapid loss of genetic diversity, we estimate that this population will go extinct in less than 30 years," said co-author Nathan Huvier of the Centre Athenas, a wildlife refuge in eastern France

"This population urgently needs new genetic material to become sustainable"

DISAPPEARED AND REINTRODUCED

The lynx, which disappeared in France in the early 20th century, was reintroduced in the 1970s, spreading through the Jura mountains along the French-Swiss border, where the majority of the population remains

CARS: THREAT TO LYNX

Huvier said poaching may be occurring but that the main threat to the lynxes is cars because their territory is "highly fragmented" by roads

Last year conservationists in the area recorded 22 collisions with vehicles. Only one lynx survived

COLLECTING GENETIC SAMPLES

To study the population in the Jura, the researchers collected genetic samples between 2008 and 2020 from lynxes that were treated for injuries, orphaned cubs or those that were found dead

They compared 78 of the samples to reference data from the parent population in central Europe's Carpathian Mountains in central Europe

CONCERN REGARDING THEIR POPULATION

French authorities last year expressed concern at the decline of the lynx population and launched a national plan to restore the species

GENETIC DIVERSITY FOR HEALTHY BREEDING

The researchers found that while the total French population is estimated to be between 120 and 150 individuals, there are only an estimated 38 lynxes thought to have sufficient genetic diversity for healthy breeding

The authors warned that without a breeding programme to introduce new genetic material into the population, it will likely collapse

With various events happening throughout the city, the primary signifiers are all in play and the people have awakened to sense it. But some Valentine's Days are more equal than others, which is precisely the case for actor Shubra Aiyappa. Surprisingly the travel buff and actor, who recently tied the knot with city-based entrepreneur Vishal Sivappa in an intimate wedding ceremony on January 18, is in the city for V-day. "Honestly, everyone has been asking us why we are still in town. We have plans of travelling to Europe but once the weather there gets better. Maybe during the summer," says Aiyappa.

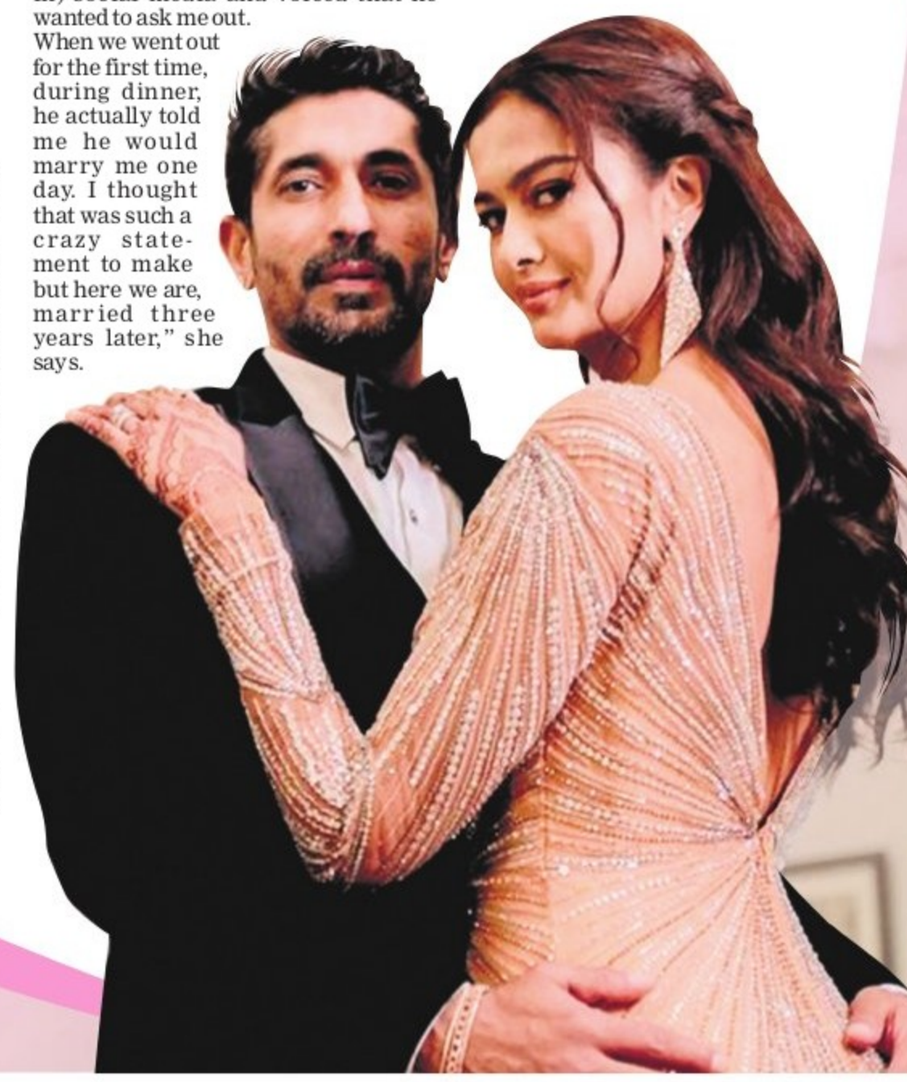
Aiyappa, who shares a penchant for many things, feels now is the perfect time to experiment with everything and be a jack of all trades. "I believe we are living in a time where we have the freedom to dabble in many things. There is no need to be stereotyped or be typecast into any specific category. I recently had a film release (Thimayya & Thimayya) and will continue shooting in Chennai very soon. A new thing I tried was anchoring the Celebrity Cricket League (CCL). I have a tendency to talk fast and maybe that made them pick me (laughs). But I had a great time hosting the entire event," shares Aiyappa, who is looking forward to begin her teacher training in yoga in Mysuru. Presently, she awaits the release of her Kannada film Ramana Avatara, currently being filmed.

Presently in a new phase of life post the wedding, she has been enjoying her time with her husband and in-laws. Speaking of the couple, they first laid eyes on one another at a mutual friend's birthday party in the US, five years ago. "I saw him for the first time back when I was in film school in New York. I found him attractive and he did the same but nothing really happened then.

Later, he noticed my photo in his friend's (who happened to be my cousin) social media and voiced that he wanted to ask me out. When we went out for the first time, during dinner, he actually told me he would marry me one day. I thought that was such a crazy statement to make but here we are, married three years later," she says.

"My first impressions of Vishal was, not to sound arrogant, that he was so handsome. He was, by far, one of the nicest looking guys I had seen. But as I got to know him more I found him to be kind and generous. He is compassionate and maybe that made me fall for him because I come from a family where kindness is prioritised over all else. That quality of him is what kept us going even when things got difficult," says Aiyappa about her spouse, who hails from a family of coffee plantation owners in Kodagu.

Both of them being health conscious, the couple has always priotised healthy living. "I have been modelling since I was 17 so workouts have pretty much comprised my entire life. It's not just about looking good. It is a bonus but I enjoy feeling healthy. And Vishal is someone who works out like an actor. We do workout together and that is always fun," she concludes.



When we went out for the first time, during dinner, Vishal actually told me he would marry me one day. I thought that was such a crazy statement to make but here we are, married three years later

STARTUP WATCH

Background
Jeevika Tyagi and Kanupriya Mundhra, co-founders of aastey, are working towards bridging the gap of size-inclusivity and sustainability for women in India by providing athleisure wear across nine different sizes made of 100 per cent recycled fabric. Together, they have forged a community of over 70,000 women across India known as the aastey tribe.

USP
Keeping environmental preservation in mind, the company has three recycled polyester in-house blends - flex, firm and breeze that actively contribute to diverting plastic from oceans and landfills. The brand saves 25kg of emissions of carbon dioxide with the production of one extreme uplift legging, which is equivalent to recycling two trash bags.

Finance Funda
The company bagged external funding of ₹10 crore in early 2022.

Target Audience
They cater to women across India who wish to feel confident about their own bodies and make their own choices, regardless of their age, shape and size.

FIT BIT

BHUJANGASANA WITH BENT KNEES

(SPHINX POSE WITH BENT KNEES)

Being a beginner level backbend, it prepares the lower back, legs, and abdominal muscles for deeper backbend pose like Dhanurasana (Bow Pose) or advance poses like Raja Bhujangasana (King Cobra Pose). It quickly boost energy in the body.

STEPS

- Lie down in a prone position with your forehead resting on the floor. Lift your head placing the chin on the floor.
- Bring hands forward placing the forearms on the mat, parallel to each other, shoulder width apart. Press the pelvis against the mat. Bend the knees.
- Align the elbows underneath the shoulder. Inhale, pressing the forearms on the floor lift the chin, chest, abdomen off the floor.
- Arch the neck taking the ears away from the shoulders. Stretch the legs outwards, and keep breathing.
- Stay in the pose for 5-10 breaths fixing the gaze upwards.
- Now exhale bringing the chest, abdomen, and forehead to the floor.
- Extend the arms over the head and relax in Savasana. Repeat once more.

BENEFITS

- Active legs impacts the spine and abdomen, giving the entire body a boost of energy.
- Helps tone the hips, thighs, abdomen, chest.
- Spinal column is toned, basic core muscles are strengthened, and the belly is toned.
- Excess fat in and around the neck, hips, arms, chest, and buttocks are also addressed.
- Overall body strengthening and toning pose.
- Gets enough supply of oxygen to the entire body with improved circulation of blood.
- Ensures the stimulation of the organs especially the liver, stomach and kidneys.
- Great practice to address digestion issues, or even urinary incontinence.
- Gentle massage to the pelvic floor impacts the reproductive organs.
- Can be a good pose for women.
- It increases spine flexibility and makes the spinal column stronger.
- It stimulates adrenal and thyroid gland.
- Regulates the secretion of hormones and maintains the endocrine system.
- It activates two energy chakras – Anahata (heart) and Vishuddha (throat) Chakras.

LIMITATIONS

People with knee or back injury or sciatica, suffering from arthritis in the knees or hips, severe conditions of IBD (Inflammatory Bowel Disease), should avoid the poses.

Bending of the knees can be a challenge for senior citizens as there will be pressure both at the lower back and on the knees.

HOPE NEEDS A FAIRY TO KILL IT

AND now a 'Fairy' will replace the bee to pollinate flowers. No, I am not reading out from the Grimms Fairy Tales and this certainly is not one with a grand finale of, "and they lived happily ever after" before a restful sleep.

I read from my colleague's recent science column that scientists have devised a 5mm 'Fairy' – a robotic bee that would pollinate flowers because of the "decline in natural pollinators." I read the news item many times to make sure that I had read it right and was not hallucinating yet again. I was horrified at this reality of human misadventure and doom. My mind zipped ahead on a time machine and I envisioned robots as humans driving cars, doing chores, cooking, having children, growing robotic plants and having fairies pollinate them.

I pinched myself to make sure that this was not one of the many nightmares journalists have while chasing stories from diverse domains, pretending to be experts and losing sleep over their copies. The other day I was chasing one such story on AI and there was a sense of instant déja vu reading about the Fairy. From a journalist I suddenly morphed into a psychic (journalists are adept chameleons), who found herself in the middle of the Armageddon. I was surrounded by an army of these gigantic 'Fairies' chasing a lone real flower (not the robotic one) in my hands and like Cervantes' Don Quixote I began mounting my attack against them. I woke up from this wretched nightmare with a voice choked and dry throat. I quickly wrapped the newspaper to keep the Fairy out of sight.

Real humans believe that 60 million years ago dinosaurs had the ultimate bad day when an asteroid impact erased them from the face of the real earth. But the bees have been there from time immemorial. To see them turn into 'Fairy' is a horror story. I can't wish it away like sci-fi. I want to tell the bees and the butterflies, the flowers and their nectar to stay on and survive human tyranny and greed. I will turn into a believer if a mystery wand could revive this earth's flora and fauna as they were when it all started under a pristine blue sky and pristine blue seas.

The hardest truth is that the real humans invented the technology and the real humans will have to pay the price of the destruction unleashed by their invention. Throw the gadgets, your technology. But where? Which landfill? Which last sea that can withstand the oil spill, the plastic and scrap dump and still breathe along with its beautiful and abundant marine life that's choking on the real human's invention?

There will be no real historians to write about the end of real humans. No, phoenix will not rise from the ashes of the real humans and soar again in the sky of fairies and pretend flowers and pretend nectar. Hope does not need an asteroid to render it extinct. A 'Fairy' can do the job!

ORDER OF THE DAY

DINERS are in for a delicious treat as several eateries in namma Bengaluru have recently introduced new menus packed with creative cuisine and exciting twists on classic favourites. The new selections are nothing short of a culinary feast and include everything from comfort pub grub to international cuisine, vegetarian fare, pan-Asian, and barbecue grill favourites. These menu debuts are sure to spice up your next dining experience, whether you're a seasoned foodie or just want to try new things.

Celebrating its fifth year of operations, the Conrad Bengaluru team has planned unique events and offerings to delight its guests. Poolside restaurant Tiamo has just unveiled a new menu that features classic Italian and Mediterranean flavours made with contemporary techniques and locally produced ingredients. In addition to other specials, the menu features a wide selection of delectable small bites, mezzes, wraps, burgers, and traditional classics like the triptych of bruschetta, dajaj harra kebab, crispy churrasco chicken burger, Mediterranean pizza, braised duck and asparagus risotto, and flambéed grilled tiger prawns. The experience can be topped off with a variety of desserts, wines, and beverages while soaking in views of the infinity pool the expansive lake.

At the Novotel ibis Bengaluru Outer Ring Road, the poolside bar and barbecue restaurant Blue Terrain has unveiled a brand new menu with a wide range of bowl meals, fondues, flambés, grills, handcrafted cocktails, and international spirits. Chef Karan Kohli has created a delicious menu with items like corn ribs, BBQ jackfruit tacos, pork ribs, and Swiss cheese fondues, to name a few. A variety of cocktails, including rum & smoke, forest G&T, chai & marmalade, peachy vessel, flaming Irish coffee, and snake coffee, will be served at the bar. In addition to its views of the city skyline, this restaurant is the perfect spot for afterwork drinks and an evening out with friends and family.

Pan-Asian café Mamagoto has introduced a new menu with a selection of flavourful bao buns, soft tacos, dim sums, and sushi that are inspired by street hawker food. This restaurant, with its colourful and quirky ambience, stays true to its Asian roots with delicious new dishes like char siu buns and wild mushroom bao, which are traditional steamed bao packed with barbecued pork and wild mushrooms, respectively. Besides that, Mamagoto is also introducing some unique sushi and dim sums, such as the salmon katsu uramaki, which is loaded with crispy salmon, cucumber, and wasabi mayo, and the xiao long soupy dim sum, which has a delicate flavour and is filled with hot chicken broth.

Street Storyss, renowned for its gourmet presentation of vegetarian street cuisine, has unveiled a new menu with mouthwatering summertime flavours and in-season fare. The specials include dahi khakkra chaat, pineapple mousse chaat, jackfruit nihari with zaatar kulcha, pumpkin ghee podi, and blue cheese with scallion chilli parotha, while dishes like the oriental green salad, beets and coconut soup, chilli cheese wonton, and crystal dumpling with curry sauce have an Asian flair. Along with a selection of desserts, you can supplement your meal with beverage options including Asian winds, Mexican tribe, and some chai.

The best location to hang out with friends over some chilled beer, delectable pub fare, and vintage music is Watson's, the hippest neighbourhood bar. The restaurant's menu has been refreshed to include a variety of international dishes in addition to local and national favourites. Money bags, goenkar rava fried prawns lotus stem with honey chilli sauce, podi grilled fish, paneer karepak vepudu, and mutton malvani are a few of the new delicacies to look forward to.

THE 3 MAGIC WORDS

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

(The author is a counsellor with InnerSight)

WITH Valentine's Day here, there is a hundred per cent chance of your social media feed, your shopping districts and general media filling up with stylised hearts, roses, chocolates and big statements of love in every imaginable shades of red, pink and purple. Much as some sections of the society might protest against it or deem it as against one's culture, it is as inescapable as happy new year messages on January 1 of the common era calendars, even if in one's particular community, the reckoning of the calendar is done differently.

The idea, of course, is not to have just a sweet valentine for the day, but that we remember to celebrate the love we have in our lives. Being able to love and letting ourselves be loved is harder than we might think, and it can be very frustrating to get closer to someone and yet not really feel very much on the place where we truly feel loved, and even tougher at home, to truly feel that we are able to love another. That's why there is so much emphasis on those three magic words, 'I love you'. We ache to hear them said to us from the person we want it, and for the person to really mean it. We long to be able to say those words and have those words respected and repeated back to us.

Much as those words means a lot, it really is another set of three words that actually mean much more when you are in a relationship.

If you are thinking of variations of 'I love you', those are really not it at all. The three words that really mean a lot in a relationship are the very ordinary, 'How are you?' Often, we take love as a given and are very confident and secure in the relationship, and yet, we forget to really focus on our significant others. The simple, 'How are you?' gets forgotten and yet, it is the cornerstone of care, compassion and companionship. When you meet after a long day, and very genuinely face each other and say these three simple words with real, warm curiosity, it does wonders for the relationship.

At the end of the day, quite literally, all we really want is to be seen, and for our lives witnessed by our partner. If we can't be bothered to ask how are you, and how was your day, and really be interested in that much, chances are that no matter how many 'I love you(s)' get said, we may not really feel it. Love is not static. It is not just a mantra we can repeat over and over, and expect that love will just be eternal as it is.

Love has its labours and the key labour is to be a witness to the lives of our loved one's life. Next time you are with your loved one, try these three magic words: 'How are you?' Be assured, you'll get a lot more than, 'I love you too'.

Ashwini A

THEATRE ARTISTE ASHWINI TO DEBUT WITH VIJAY KUMAR'S BHEEMA

The newbie talks to about bagging a role in the big project

Vijay Kumar

A SHARADHAA

VIJAY Kumar, who was busy with his Telugu debut, Veera Simha Reddy starring Balakrishna, is back to working on his directorial project, Bheema. The shooting of the film is 50% complete and now the team has revealed its heroine.

Newcomer, Ashwini A, who comes from a theatre background will be playing the female lead opposite Vijay. According to the team Bheema, the director, who has been particular about the casting, did not go with the glam factor and was looking out for a performer. Finally, he felt Ashwini was the perfect fit through the auditions.

Ashwini, who joined the first day of the shoot on Monday confesses going through mixed emotions, as it has been almost a year since Vijay confirmed her as the heroine of Bheema. She managed to keep the secret under wraps for the longest time. "I'm glad to begin my cinema career under Vijay sir's direction and share screen space with him," says the newbie. An MBA student specialising in HR, she has involved herself in staged plays under the theatre Tatkal group and Abinaya Taranga for more than three-and-a-half-years. "I always wanted to be an actor, and here I am. Currently, I am unable to explain the feelings I am going through. This is a really big deal," she adds.

Ashwini, who will be dedicating two months of her time to Bheema wants to focus more on her acting. However, she will not give up on theatre. "Acting in theatre is a learning curve, and it will continue."

Vijay, turned director with Salaga, is now helming his second film, Bheema. The film reunites him with many of his technicians, who were part of Salaga.

Bheema produced by Krishna Sarthak and Jagadeesh Gowda has Charan Raj scoring the music, and Maasthi penning the dialogues. The cinematography is handled by Shiv Sena, and Deepu S Kumar is the editor.

I LIKE THE CONSTANT CHANGE THAT COMES WITH MY CHARACTERS:

SAMYUKTA HORNAD

CE FEATURES

WHETHER as a protagonist or in a supporting role, Samyukta Hornad is someone who believes her character should be something that adds value to the film. The actor, who was recently seen in Darshan's Kranti, is gearing up for the release of PC Shekar's Love Birds on February 17. The film, which stars Krishna and Milana Nagaraj as leads, features her in the role of a lawyer. Talking about how she became a part of Love Birds, Samyukta says, "What was interesting is this project came by when I was in Maldives with the goal of reinventing myself, and living in the moment. Maya, my character in Love Birds is exactly that girl." says Samyukta, adding, "I don't want to be the spoilsport by giving away details about my role. All I would say that is Maya doesn't plan her life. We are always stuck in the past or plan for the future. In an age, where awe are talking about relationship goals, and aspire for validation on social media, it is hard to be like Maya. She is sorted, but still emotional," she says.

> IIt is been 12 years since I started acting, and I ensured to never have the 'heroine' label, because I believe I am an actor first
> Samyukta Hornad, actor

Samyukta, who has had a handful of releases over the last few months, started 2023 with Kranti, Hondisi Bareyiri, and now Love Birds. She nurses the ambition to carry a film on her shoulders, "You have to be more than just a heroine to play such roles," says Samyukta, adding, "It is been 12 years since I started acting, and I ensured to never have the 'heroine' label, because I believe I am an actor first. I also have other passions like running an animal foundation. My ajji (grandma Bhargavi Narayan) was working till she was 82 years, and I want to follow in her footsteps. As an actor, I have not set any rules. I always want to break it and surprise myself with exciting roles, and projects. I like the constant change that comes with my characters," she says.

Samyukta also goes on to explain that apart from skills and luck, what matters for an actor the most is the 'stay.' "Through my experience, I feel that between one sadness and one struggle to another suffering, there are times where you find magic, which you experience with a role, in a film or on the sets. That makes all the difference," she tells us.

Produced by Kaddipudi Chandru, Love Birds is set to release on February 17, and also features Rangayana Raghu, Sadhu Kokila, Veena Sundar, and noted YouTuber Gaurav Shetty in pivotal roles.

Love Birds has Arjun Janya scoring the music, and Shakti Shekar handling the cinematography.

Akshith with his father and actor Shashikumar and Thriller Manju

'I hope Chaos helps me reach the mass audience'

...says Akshith Shashikumar, who hopes that his upcoming suspense thriller, will help prove his versatility

Akshith Shashikumar

CE FEATURES

Two-film-old actor Akshith Shashikumar is trying to find a foothold in Kannada cinema. Akshith, who made his debut with Oh My Love, followed with a Kannada-Telugu bilingual, Seethayana, which received a lukewarm reception. Akshith is now pinning his hopes on his third outing, Chaos, which is slated to release this week. "I never doubted the scripts I chose to be part of. But at the same time, the opinion of the audience is what matters the most. Somewhere, I am still trying to connect with the audience, and I am not ready to give up."

Chaos, directed by doctor-turned-filmmaker GV Prasad, is a suspense thriller, which takes place on a medical campus. The film stars Aditi Prabhudeva alongside Akshith.

"Chaos is a new genre and is in contrast to my previous two films. I hope this content helps me reach the mass audience, and help me prove my versatility," says Akshith, who plays a medical student in the film. Talking about the plot, Akshith shares that his character is someone who doesn't talk much, and doesn't have a social life. "He inadvertently gets into a problem, and the film becomes a murder mystery."

The film is all the more special for Akshith because he gets to share screen space with his father and noted actor Shashikumar. "There was always this curiosity amongst people as to when I am going to act with my father, but never thought it would come so early. Working with him was a fulfilling moment, but we also shared a healthy competition, and I wanted to give the best shot whenever I shared screen with him. If I did a mistake, he would take me aside, and help me get better," he says.

After Chaos, Akshith is taking some time to sign his next project. "Unlike before, where actors did 10-15 films to get established, now it is important to hit the target right from the start. I have a few scripts in place, and I'm in discussions with various directors. Nothing has been confirmed so far," he says.

Chaos is produced by Parul Agrawal and Hemachandra Reddy under The Black Pebble Entertainment banner and has Vijay Haritsa scoring the music. The film has Dilip Kumar, and Sandeep Valluri handling the cinematography. Chaos is distributed by B Kumar.

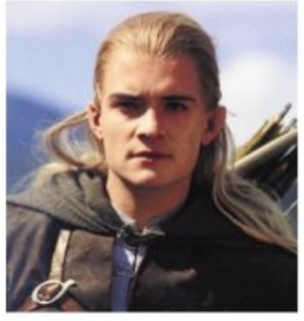
ORLANDO BLOOM TO STAR IN PSYCHOLOGICAL THRILLER THE CUT

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Orlando Bloom is set to headline the upcoming psychological thriller The Cut. The actor will play the role of a retired boxer who chooses to suspend his retirement so as to defend his championship title.

Besides starring, Orlando will also be the executive producer of the film.

While describing Orlando's character, the report by Collider described he is a determined person to hold his title "through a grueling and unsanctioned weight cut program with a coach who knows no limits, alienating himself from reality and loved ones, as he spirals out of control." The makers are yet to announce other cast members. The Cut will go on floors in Nevada from summer.



Criminal Minds season 2 to go on floors in April

CE FEATURES

THE second season of Criminal Minds, one of the most watched series of CBS, will go on floors in April, actor Paget Brewster, one of the cast members confirmed on social media recently. The renewal of the second season came shortly after the first season garnered huge viewership.

"Guys, we are coming back so fast it'll make your head spin. Because of you! We start shooting in 2 months, thank you, thank you, thank you!!" tweeted Paget.

Criminal Mind: Evolution is a follow-up to the show Criminal Mind. The show revolved around FBI Behaviour Analysis Unit which solves crimes by narrating case stories for a week. Created by Jeff Davis in 2005, the show revolves how the unit tries to breakdown cases involving unknown perpetrators of crimes. Others part of the cast include Joe Mantegna, Kirsten Vangsness, Adam Rodriguez, AJ Cook, and Aisha Tyler.

The show is backed by ABC Signature and CBS Studios and Erica Messer is the show runner, writer and one of the executive producers. Criminal Minds will run for ten episodes.
